

RFK Would Send Top Speakers Best Way to Tell U.S. Story: View

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today American leaders in the fields of government, education and the arts should be sent abroad to tell the story of the United States to the world.

"Capitalism has become a dirty word because it is synonymous with selfishness," Kennedy said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press. "Many people in foreign lands believe that Americans are interested only in material gain, that they are not interested in their neighbors, not interested in their communities and not interested in those that are less well off," he said.

Would Use Top Men

It is to counteract misinformation and dispel false impressions of the United States that the attorney general urged articulate spokesmen — politicians, professors, playwrights, poets — be sent through the world.

Kennedy, a younger brother of the President, returned seven weeks ago from a month-long goodwill tour of 10 countries. Along the way he discussed the United States in open debates with foreign students and reported on his return: "In my judgment unless we have an active program to provide these students with the information and facts for which they hunger we will lose the cold war no matter how much money we spend on aid—military or economic."

Would Enlighten Youth

Today, the attorney general said his proposal to send lecturers to all nations would "help these young people know the facts about us and our way of life."

An aide said President Kennedy was aware of the contents of the attorney general's speech. Last month, commenting at a news conference about his brother's trip, the President observed that a number of high administration officials have traveled abroad and he said they should learn things and to tell people in other lands "that we have a very vital moving country here."

In today's address, Atty. Gen. Kennedy said individuals sent abroad under his proposal "should make tours of as many universities as possible and should confer with labor leaders, farm and cooperative leaders, newspaper editors, businessmen and government officials, as well as students."

Two Volunteers

He said he had discussed the idea recently with a businessman and a labor leader who had volunteered to speak at universities on trips they planned to the Far East.

"I know they both will make a favorable impression and they will help," Kennedy said. He did not identify them.

Kennedy said, "I would like to see many more people go—senators, Cabinet members, congressmen, governors, university professors, playwrights, and poets."

In his speech Kennedy made two other suggestions:

1. He said government information agencies should frankly discuss the nation's difficulties in civil rights, law enforcement, and other problems and its attempts to solve them.

2. He said other free countries should be encouraged to set up Peace Corps units like those established by the United States.

FATAL CRASH ON ROUTE 32—A teenager was killed in each of the two bashed-in vehicles early Sunday morning during a two-car collision on Route 32 near Palenville, Kingston state police identified the dead as Robert Corrigan, 16, of Palenville, who was driving alone in the 1960 station wagon (right), and Miss Karen R. Koschitzki, 19, of Catskill, a passenger in the 1954 sedan. The driver of the sedan, Robert R. Doyle, 21, of Quarryville was reported in good condition today at Kingston Hospital. Two other passengers, Miss Anna Waldschmidt, 19, of Catskill was reported in fair condition in the same hospital, and Richard Curry, 18, of High Falls Road, Quarryville was in fair condition today at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill. Coroner Michael A. Galletta reported death of the two victims was due to fractured skulls. Troopers said Corrigan was apparently proceeding south on Route 32 on the wrong side of the highway when in collision with the Doyle vehicle, which was traveling north. Troopers Richard Ryan and Marvin Cole are in the background.

Two Killed in Area, 13 in State Mishaps

Thirteen traffic deaths, including two in Ulster County, marred the Easter weekend in New York State as pleasant temperatures and clear, sunny skies brought out a record number of motorists.

In three highway mishaps reported by Kingston state police, two persons were fatally injured and seven others were hurt.

Two Die at Palenville

Two teen-agers were killed early Sunday morning on Route 32 near Palenville, about 500 feet from the Greene County line.

Troopers identified the dead as

Robert Corrigan, 16, of Palenville, and Miss Karen R. Koschitzki, 19, of Catskill. Coroner Michael A. Galletta of Saugerties said both died of skull fractures.

Those injured and taken to Kingston Hospital, according to troopers, were: Robert Doyle, 21, of Quarryville, fractured jaw, lacerations of brow, abrasions of finger and thigh, reported in good condition; Miss Anna Waldschmidt, 19, of Catskill, fractured right leg, multiple abrasions of both legs, abrasions of left side of face, reported in fair condition.

In Fair Condition

Richard Curry, 18, of High Falls Road, Quarryville, was reported in fair condition at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill. Troopers said he suffered possible skull fracture, fractured jaw, contusions of the left eye, abrasions of the ribs, both legs and possible internal injuries.

Troopers reported Corrigan was driving alone in a 1960 station wagon. He was proceeding south on Route 32 on the wrong side of the highway when in collision with a 1954 sedan operated by young Doyle. The Doyle car was traveling north on Route 32, troopers said. The mishap occurred at 12:50 a. m.

Investigating were Kingston troopers Richard Ryan, Marvin Cole and BCI Investigator Joseph Ventriglia, and Troopers R. L. Cure and D. B. Gallery of Leeds sub-station.

Five Kingston area teen-agers narrowly escaped serious injury shortly before noon Saturday when the car in which they were riding left the River Road at Port Ewen, plunged down an 80-foot embankment and came to rest in the Hudson River bed at low tide, Kingston state police reported.

Troopers identified the injured, who were treated and released from Benedictine Hospital:

Treated and Released

James Ferrendino, 14, of East Kingston, broken right arm, was admitted but later discharged.

Another passenger, Richard

CAR RUNS OFF RIVER ROAD—Four persons were injured Saturday when the operator of a 1962 sedan lost control of the car which went down an 80-foot embankment off the River Road, Port Ewen, and came to rest right-side-up in the Hudson River during low tide. Three of the four treated and released from Benedictine Hospital were Edward Buckman, 17, of West Chester Street, the operator; Peter Guido, 15, of RD 1, Box 293, Kingston, and Thomas Guidy, 16, of Rogers Street, James Ferrendino, 14, of East Kingston was admitted but has since been discharged. Another passenger, Richard Ackert, 14, of Cottage Row, Kingston, was reported injured. Kingston troopers said Buckman, driving his father's new 1962 sedan was proceeding south on the River Road, failed to negotiate a curve and plunged down the steep embankment, coming to rest in the river.

Making Ready for Nuclear Test

First Blast May Come Within Next 48 Hours

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of men and scores of ships of U.S. Task Force 8 sped preparations today for the start this week of American nuclear tests in the air over the Pacific. Some officials said the first blast could come within 48 hours.

As the United States was getting set to conduct its first nuclear weapons test in the atmosphere since 1958, officials said they were convinced the Soviet Union was getting ready to fire off another series of its own. Last fall the U.S.S.R. set off about 50 atmospheric tests.

Speculate on Tests

Indications are there will be perhaps three dozen U.S. tests in the next two or three months, all above the earth's surface and some probably hundreds of miles aloft.

Speculation on possible fields of U.S. testing has centered on missiles armed with warheads, the effects of nuclear blasts on radar and communications, the effects of a nuclear explosion might have on an enemy nuclear warhead, and research on a neutron bomb—a device which theorists say could destroy life without demolishing buildings.

One of the tests, the New York Daily News said today in a copy-right story, will be the world's first live firing of a nuclear-armed, long-range ballistic missile—a Polaris launched under water from a nuclear-powered submarine, the fuse set for an air burst.

Basis of Decision

In announcing last March 2 that the United States was ready to test again in the atmosphere, President Kennedy said his decision was based on Soviet technological advances and some substantial gains in weaponry.

American military men, some scientists and many members of Congress have long contended that unless the United States puts to the test its atomic laboratory findings, this country's lead in nuclear weaponry is in danger of being dissipated.

Kennedy said the new U.S. test series could be averted only if the Soviet Union agreed to an internationally inspected and supervised ban on all nuclear weapons tests. The Soviet Union has continued to oppose international inspection.

Readying Rocket For Moon

Ranger 4 to Take Pictures on Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States readied its most powerful space rocket today for an attempt to propel the Ranger 4 spacecraft to the moon to snap television pictures and record scientific data.

The launch crew has an 87-minute period to fire the 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena B vehicle to put the spidery spaceship on course for the 229,541-mile journey to the moon.

Three Scheduled

The shot is one of three major launchings scheduled this week by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The second test flight of the Saturn super-booster is set for Wednesday, and a U.S.-British international satellite is ticketed for firing Thursday. The maiden flight of the high-energy Centaur rocket, postponed a fifth time Saturday, also may squeeze into the crowded schedule.

The complex Ranger 4 mission involves launching the Agena B second stage into a parking orbit 100 miles high. At the precise moment the engine must be re-started to boost the spacecraft speed to 24,500 miles an hour to start it on its 60-hour trip.

Sixteen hours after launching, if all is going well, a tracking station at Goldstone, Calif., will send a signal to fire a midcourse motor to correct the vehicle's position and jockey it onto a collision course with the moon.

To Point Cameras

Early Thursday morning, when Ranger 4 is to be 5,000 miles from the moon's bright side, the 730-pound craft is to execute a terminal maneuver to point its television camera at the lunar landscape.

The camera begins operating at an altitude of 2,400 miles and transmits a picture to Goldstone every 10 seconds for 40 minutes down to an altitude of 15 miles. The spacecraft then ejects a 12-inch sphere wrapped in a 24-inch coating of shock-absorbent balsa wood. A tiny reverse rocket attached to the 89.3-inch ball slows the speed so it will land at a velocity of 80 to 120 miles an hour. The main body of the payload crashes at 6,000 miles and is destroyed.

Island Dock Official Taken Ill in Florida

John D. Schoonmaker Jr., of 169 Albany Avenue, president of Island Dock Lumber Inc., suffered a mild stroke while vacationing at Miami Beach, Fla., according to word received today by officials of the firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Schoonmaker are in Florida where they had planned to vacation a couple of weeks. Schoonmaker is a patient at St. Francis Hospital, Miami Beach, it was said.

Council May Act Further

Judge Says Committee Not Appointed Legally

Common Council action authorizing investigation of a March 22 police board meeting is still possible after a recent decision by Supreme Court Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer, which holds mainly that a committee had not been named by resolution for the stated purpose, it was learned today.

The committee, if named, will seek details of the March meeting at which Mayor John J. Schwenk was reported to have said that police board commissioners who did not agree with him could resign.

Justice MacAffer's decision dealt mainly with a motion to "vacate, cancel and quash" a subpoena issued by the committee to Thomas Lacue, news director of Radio Station WGHQ to whom, it was claimed information had leaked from the meeting. It upholds a motion by Attorney Frank Campochiaro against serving of the subpoena against Lacue.

To Meet May 1

Alderman Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, Common Council majority leader today thought it likely that adoption of a resolution authorizing the special committee will be sought. The council's next regular meeting is due May 1.

Justice MacAffer's report notes that "The moving papers of the petitioner challenge the authority of the special committee to issue the aforesaid subpoena."

"It would appear," he said, "from a certified copy of a portion of the minutes of the Council (Continued on Page 8, Col. 4)"

Hotel Interior Is Destroyed by Fire In Kerhonkson

An Easter morning fire destroyed the interior of the Brookside Hotel on Stonykill Road, Kerhonkson, after about 15 guests and employees fled to safety. The blaze was the most serious of a rash of fires that kept firemen in most communities busy during the last two days.

The fire in the hotel was discovered burning in the kitchen of the 10-room building shortly before 6 a. m. on Sunday and broken from Kerhonkson and Accord companies were dispatched to the scene.

Mrs. Sadie Friedman, who operates the hotel with her husband, told The Freeman the fire originated in the kitchen after a stove oven exploded. She said luckily there were no guests or employees sleeping above the kitchen.

Rocky to Sign School Aid Increase, Court Reorganization Bills This Week

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Two of the most far-reaching bills passed by the 1962 Legislature—a major increase in school aid and court reorganization—will be signed this week by Gov. Rockefeller as he enters the final days of the annual bill-signing period.

Those two key measures are among 600 bills on which the governor has still to announce his decisions.

The school-aid plan, providing an increase of $230 million over the next three years, to a total of more than $1 billion, is considered by many to be the most significant legislative action of 1962.

The Legislature passed more than 1,300 measures during its three-month session, which ended March 31. The governor has until midnight next Monday to complete action on the legislation.

In addition to his bill-signing tasks this week, the governor faces a heavy schedule of speaking engagements, including a speech to a meeting of the New York County (Manhattan) Republican committee tonight.

Rockefeller, who left Albany Thursday for an Easter weekend in New York City, will return to the capitol Tuesday.

The governor announced today decisions on legislation in those areas:

Milk—He approved a bill appropriating $25,000 to finance a study to determine the impact on New York State dairymen of a proposed, national sanitation code to substitute a uniform, federal standard for state and regional rules governing the flow of milk. New York farmers have said enactment of a federal law could open this state to a flood of Midwestern milk and jeopardize their livelihood.

County Courts—He approved a bill raising to $10,000, from $5,000, the maximum amount over which 22 county courts may retain jurisdiction in monetary cases. The change had been sought by the counties of Broome, Cattaraugus, Erie, Greene, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Monroe, Montgomery, Orleans, Oswego, Putnam, Rockland, Schoharie, Schuyler, Seneca, Steuben, Sullivan, Washington, Westchester, Wyoming and Yates.

Salaries—The salaries of the state comptroller and state attorney general will be raised to $35,000 a year each next Jan. 1 as a result of a bill signed by the governor.

Supreme Session Is Opened

Khrushchev May Talk at Any Time

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The newly elected Supreme Soviet met today to elect Premier Khrushchev and perhaps to hear him deliver a major policy speech. Tass, the Soviet News agency, reported "stormy and prolonged" applause for government and Communist party leaders as they entered for the opening session.

Jan Pieve, president of the Academy of Sciences in Latvia, was elected chairman of the Soviet of Nationalities — the house which is chosen by regions — and Iran Spiridonov, a secretary of the Communist party's central committee, was chosen president of the Soviet of the Union — the chamber chosen on the basis of population.

No Definite Time

There was no indication when Khrushchev might speak during the two or three-day session. The year-old Soviet leader, who said last week he is working harder than ever, could be expected to review domestic and world issues.

American plans to hold new nuclear tests in the atmosphere were expected to come in for another tongue lashing from the Soviet premier. On the domestic front, Khrushchev's main worry is to give a boost to the nation's ailing agriculture.

To Approve Cabinet

The Supreme Soviet session is the first since elections last month, and more than 50 per cent of the members are new. They also will approve a new Soviet Cabinet. It is expected to be largely the same as the one Khrushchev has been heading but the only woman member, Minister of Culture Ekaterina Furtsheva, may be dropped. She was dropped from the Communist party Presidium last October and was not a candidate for re-election to the Supreme Soviet.

Khrushchev chose the eve of the parliament opening to warn critics—inside and outside Communist ranks—that the Soviet party he leads is following "the only correct Leninist course."

Takes Crack at Others

Speaking at ceremonies marking the 92nd anniversary of Lenin's birth, Khrushchev took a crack at Yugoslav revisionists and Albanian and Red Chinese dogmatists as well as Western capitalism.

Boasting "we have scored outstanding victories," he declared, "the liberation struggle of the working people of the whole world, like mighty spring waters, are washing from our planet the dirt and mold of the old capitalist world."

Leonid Ilyichev, ideological chief of the Soviet Communist party, defended the Soviet Union's economic policy as the only correct road to socialism and then communism.

Property Sale

He approved a measure authorizing the State Office of General Services to sell to the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rockville Centre lands now part of the Pilgrim State Hospital property in Suffolk County. The office of general services will set a price.

Voters Urged to Attend 2 School Candidate Meetings

Two meetings are scheduled this week to hear candidates campaigning for two places on the board of the Kingston Consolidated School District.

The first one takes place Tuesday at Hurley School auditorium sponsored by the Parents Club of the community. The second is set for Thursday at Lake Katrine School sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association Council of the Kingston Consolidated District.

Both sessions are to start at 8 p. m. It is urged by sponsoring groups that the meetings be largely attended by people who intend to vote at the important election on Tuesday May 1.

Candidates running for election are:

Gifford R. Beal, Town of Ulster resident, claims manager for Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Robert F. "Bob" Browning, WKNY newscaster and commentator, who resides at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Beal and Browning have been recommended to voters by the NonPartisan Nominating Committee.

Three College Students Still Missing, the Mystery Deepens

Three Jackets Are Only Clues To Disappearance

TRENTON, Ga. (AP) — The mystery of what happened to three college students deepened today as rescue workers explored all but one passage of a cave under Lookout Mountain without finding them.

Veteran search leaders said they were baffled by the lack of physical evidence that the three were lost in vast Cave near this North Georgia town.

The only real clues to the presence of William Bartee, 20, and James Mason, 21, both of Atlanta, and Martin Huddleston, 19 of Daytona Beach, Fla., were three jackets found at the mouth of the cave and a car parked nearby.

An experienced team of cave explorers from Atlanta entered the cave early this morning and began a thorough search.

James Storey, who heads the group, said they had explored the cave many times. "I don't see how an experienced cave explorer could get lost in this cave," he said.

Find Candy Wrappers

Discovery of candy wrappers and footprints on the opposite side of a 75-yard wide subterranean lake about a mile from the cave entrance spurred the hunt for a time Sunday night.

Charles McGuire, leader of a rescue unit, said "I don't think the tracks mean much. Things remain in a state of preservation in a cave like this and they could have been made 10 years ago."

Candy and gum wrappers also might have been there some time. The search began about 2 a.m. Sunday. Rescue squads from half a dozen counties and towns in the area took part.

The three students all obtained eagle rank as explorer scouts and were described as being able to take care of themselves. Mason and Huddleston attend Emory University in Atlanta and Bartee is a student at Presbyterian College, Clinton, S.C.

They apparently entered the cave early Saturday and were reported missing when they failed to return to Atlanta at midnight Saturday.

Discovery of the three coats at the mouth of the cave started the intensive search.

Batchelor, Safety Cartoonist Is Hurt

CHESTER, Conn. (AP) — C.D. Batchelor, 74, famed for his "Inviting the Undertaker" highway-safety cartoons, and his wife, injured in an auto-truck crash, were reported in fair condition today.

Batchelor and his wife, Allegra, were hurt Saturday in the collision of their sports car and a bakery truck. They live at nearby Deep River.

The 1001st cartoon in his "Inviting the Undertaker" series appeared in the New York Daily News today.

Guido to Declare Elections Earlier This Year, Void

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Unofficial sources said today President Jose Maria Guido will declare null and void all elections since Dec. 17, 1961 — thus eliminating posts won by Peronists on March 18.

Naval forces announced Sunday they were demanding such action by the president, thus ending his brief one-day respite from political crisis.

The report from unofficial sources came after lengthy post-midnight sessions at the presidential residence attended by military leaders, including the navy secretary, Rear Adm. Gaston Clemente.

He announced Sunday the navy had reached a "firm decision to insist by all means at its reach" that Guido honor a pledge to wipe out the March 18 elections.

Some sources expressed belief the crisis was easing in the wake of the early morning meetings at the palace.

Assaulted by Two

Police were notified early today that Anthony Tece, of Sticks Avenue, said he had been assaulted by two men. He said his car had been damaged and his clothing torn. The assault occurred, the report said, at Broadway and East Chester Street. The two, he said, traveled in a light-colored car. A check on a license number indicated that registration plates had been issued in Dutchess County.

Winds of Chance — An ill wind blew good for William Herman. Herman, a hopeful playwright, lost a batch of manuscript pages when a sharp breeze blew up as he bicycled along a Manhattan street last September.

A passerby who helped him retrieve the material was A. N. Jimsohn. It turned out Jimsohn, a construction man from St. Petersburg, Fla., had recently come here with the intention of becoming a theatrical producer.

Liking Herman's work, Jimsohn has now scheduled an off-Broadway presentation of two one-act plays, has taken a full-length work for Broadway exhibit.

Traffic Mishap Injuries Noted, One Arrest Made

Four persons reported injuries after a mishap on upper Broadway, a car and an uptown fence were damaged by unknown drivers, a boy was reported injured, and an arrest followed an uptown accident over the weekend.

Reported injured in a two-car mishap shortly before 9 p. m. Sunday at Broadway and VanBuren Street were Anastasia Kitsos, 33, of 11 Ponckhookie Street, driven of the one car, who reported back and arm injuries and was to be treated by a doctor, and three others in the other car.

The others reporting injuries were Barbara Ann LaRocca, 22, of 44 Post Street, driver of the other car, who reported an injury of the abdomen; Esther Fisher, 36, of 32 Abel Street, a knee injury; and Doris Pantusso, 28, of 319 Clifton Avenue, injury of the left ankle. They were treated at Kingston Hospital.

Officers Richard Scherer and Ernest Bartroff, who investigated, said the Kitsos car had stopped and the other came in contact with its rear.

Fraiser Sprague, 19, of 44 Hurley Avenue, notified police late Saturday night that the car he drove was struck by a hit-and-run driver when he stopped at Broadway and Delaware Avenue, and a report early today noted that a fence at 97 Wall Street had been struck and damaged by a car, the driver of which is unknown.

Police said a third degree assault charge had been lodged against Charles C. Eastment, 22, of 116 Pearl Street, by William Burridge, 31, of Averill Park, Burden Lake, who was listed as one of the drivers in a mishap at Fair and Main Streets early Sunday.

The other car, police said, was driven by Robert D. Eastment, 19, of 116 Pearl Street. City Court hearing of the charge against Charles Eastment was put over today until April 26. Police said the vehicle driven by Burridge, and owned by the Hearst Corp., 24 Sheridan Avenue, Albany, had come in contact with a door on the other car as it was being closed.

A report Saturday afternoon said a boy walking with a bicycle in the road and a car were involved in a mishap at Crown and North Front Streets. The boy, Clifford Blas, 9, of 54 North Front Street was to be X-rayed at the Benedictine Hospital for a possible leg injury. The car, the report said, making a left turn from North Front Street into Crown, was driven by Rosemary Ann Dwyer, 17, of 70 West Chestnut Street.

Kerhonkson Man Takes Own Life, Coroner Reports

A 35-year-old Kerhonkson man died Saturday afternoon of carbon monoxide gas poisoning, and Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp gave a verdict of suicide after an investigation he conducted with Ellenville State Police.

The victim, Francis Countryman, an employee at Channel Master Corp., Ellenville, was found in his gas filled car parked near the John Schoonmaker property off Berne Road about three miles from the village of Kerhonkson. The body was found at about 3:15 p. m. Saturday.

Investigating with State Police Corp. Michael Bonney and ECI Investigator George Dana, Ellenville, Coroner Chipp said Countryman had been under the care of a physician and had been depressed for a period of time.

Chipp said the body was discovered in the car by Countryman's wife, the former Dorothy Krom. Mrs. Countryman and relatives had gone looking for Countryman when he failed to return home for lunch.

The coroner said Countryman had previously gone to the area where he was found by his wife and an uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. James Palen. Chipp said a vacuum cleaner was found attached to the exhaust pipe and running into the car.

Countryman left home at about 10 a. m. Saturday and was supposed to have reported for work at Channel Master Corp. about 3:30 p. m. He was found dead at about 3:15 p. m.

Countryman was born in Accord on Sept. 25, 1926, a son of Dewey and Ida Coddington Countryman. He was a veteran of World War 2 having served in the Asiatic and Pacific campaigns.

Survivors are his parents and wife; three children Perry, 8; Laurie, 6, and Gary, 4; two sisters Mrs. Elver (Pearl) Mead, of Port Ewen, and Mrs. Donald (Daisy) Pomeroy, Sterling, Conn.; two brothers Kenneth Countryman, Cottekill, and Joseph Countryman, of Accord.

Funeral services will be held from H. E. Humiston Funeral Home, Kerhonkson, Tuesday at 1 p. m. with the Rev. Paul Babich, pastor of Federated Church of Kerhonkson, officiating. Burial will be in Pine Bush Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Tuesday Is Deadline For C of C Breakfast

Reservations for the Wednesday morning breakfast, sponsored by Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, can be accepted until noon on Tuesday.

Sam Popper, president of the Chamber of Commerce, emphasized the fact that attendance is open to the public.

Joseph J. Benjamin, chairman of the special breakfast committee pointed out that an indication of the widespread interest in the breakfast is shown by the fact that Chester L. Stenberg, General Manager of Standard Furniture Company in Troy, will attend with Jay Melton, manager of their local store.

The breakfast takes place in Governor Clinton Hotel at 8 a. m. with service for "early birds" starting at 7:50. Admittance will take place promptly at 9 a. m. The breakfast is the Kingston feature of Chamber of Commerce Week as proclaimed by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Court Holds Tape As Case Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to interfere with use of evidence obtained by a federal alcohol tax agent who connected a tape recorder to his telephone ear piece when he talked with a prospective seller of bootleg whisky.

The resulting tape record was admitted in evidence in U.S. District court in Atlanta, Ga., over protests by defense attorneys. They cited a section of the Federal that "no person not being authorized by the sender shall intercept any communication and divulge or publish the existence or contents" of the communication. Upholding use of the ear piece device and admission of the recorded conversation, the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans said: "Taking a sensible view of it, the only difference between a person testifying to a conversation in which he participated or overheard and a recording of the conversation is that the recording has the advantage of furnishing trustworthy evidence."

Is Sentenced Today

Joseph Berley, 31, formerly of Ora Place, this city, who was booked on three charges in May 1961 after allegedly backing into a police car on upper Broadway, was sentenced in city court today. He had been originally charged with driving while intoxicated, but this was reduced to driving with impaired ability and he was fined $50 on that charge today. He was fined $5 each on charges of failure to list a change of address and for improper use of license plates. Attorney Marshall Lipton appeared for Berley and Ward Ingalsbe for the district attorney's office.

DIED

Memorial

In loving memory of Betty Jean Riehl who passed away one year ago today April 23, 1961. What we would give to see you smile.

And sit with you and talk awhile. The blow was sudden, the shock severe To part with you so kind and dear. Day and night we think of you The things you used to say and do. We wonder why you had to die Without a chance to say "goodbye".

Navy Ship Races To Aid Schooner, 8 Aboard, Safe

NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. Navy ship raced early today to the side of a schooner in distress in the Atlantic and reported that all eight aboard were safe.

The Navy ship, which was not identified, notified the Coast Guard in New York that the 71-foot schooner "Black Panther" had lost its main mast and was powerless to move in high seas. The schooner was said to have made only about three miles in the two days since it declined assistance after a widespread Coast Guard search late last week.

The Coast Guard said the schooner was about halfway along its planned course for Bermuda to New York.

The naval vessel was to stay with the schooner until a Coast Guard cutter, the Humboldt, reached the scene some time tonight to take the disabled craft in tow, the Coast Guard said.

None of those aboard was from New York State.

Publisher, Town Supervisor Hurt In Dutchess Crash

A Dutchess County newspaper publisher and a town supervisor were injured Saturday night after a two-car collision on Route 199, east of Lafayetteville in the Town of Milan.

Rhinebeck State Police said Henry A. Grant, publisher of the Pine Plains Register-Herald, and Town of Pine Plains Supervisor Clyde Chase, were taken to the Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck.

Troopers said Grant suffered severe lacerations of the face and head when thrown almost through the windshield of the car driven by Chase. The supervisor received possible rib fractures.

James Arthur, 19, Pine Plains, operator of the other vehicle was ticketed by troopers on a charge of driving across a double white line.

Chase and Grant were on their way to their homes after a day of golf when the accident occurred.

Gasoline Blast From Bottle Is Cause of Blaze

A 26-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie resident, employed at the South Road laboratory of International Business Machines Corp. was singed on the forehead and face Saturday afternoon when a two-alarm fire preceded by an explosion of a bottle of gasoline heavily damaged an Arlington residence.

Carl Zeitler Jr., of 5-7 La-Grange Avenue, Arlington, an associate engineer at the Poughkeepsie IBM Laboratory, was treated at the scene by an Arlington Fire Department emergency crew.

Fire Chief James C. Laffin said Zeitler told fire officials he was in the yard washing his automobile when all of a sudden there was an explosion on the back porch. Zeitler said flames immediately flashed across the porch and he ran up and tried to extinguish the fire.

Zeitler said as he reached the porch something else exploded and fire singed his face. Firemen were summoned and on arrival at the scene Chief Laffin ordered a second alarm which summoned fire companies from Rochdale and Red Oaks Mill.

Fire Inspector Earl Laffin said that a gallon glass jar containing gasoline apparently exploded. Heat from the sun's rays caused the explosion, authorities said.

Poughkeepsie Fire

Fire early today destroyed an unused coal silo and other frame buildings on the Edward McCann Coal Co. property, Parker Avenue and North Clinton Street, Poughkeepsie. Firemen battled the spectacular and stubborn fire more than three hours. The fire was discovered after 2:15 a. m. Some of the buildings destroyed by flames were occupied by William Hawley, operator of a junk car business. Fire officials said several old cars were destroyed in the fire.

It is estimated that as much as 92 per cent of the total feed supply of sheep can be derived from forage.

Will Make Study Of How Code Can Affect State Milk

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Agriculture Department will make a $25,000 study to determine how enactment of a federal sanitation code governing the milk industry could affect New York State dairy farmers.

Gov. Rockefeller announced today he had signed legislation providing for the study.

Rockefeller declared previously he was against any such code, which New York dairymen said would open this state to a flood of midwestern milk and jeopardize their livelihood.

The governor said in announcing the study:

"New York's dairy industry accounts for more than half of the total farm income of New York State. It is of the utmost importance that any proposed law, such as the proposed National Sanitation Act, which could have serious effects upon New York's dairy farmers, be given the most thorough study and analysis."

Rockefeller agreed with the dairymen's view that "such a law could open New York's dairy markets to surplus milk supplies from the Midwest with serious economic results."

The study should "consider the immediate and long-range impact on both milk producers and milk consumers in New York State," Rockefeller said.

The governor directed the State Health Commissioner to cooperate in the study, which will cover the health, as well as the economic aspects, of the proposed new federal law.

New York State now restricts imports of milk through a system of licensing of supplies. They must conform to state standards. No midwestern sources are licensed.

If a uniform federal code were enacted, it would supersede the state system and midwestern suppliers could send milk into the New York market.

Why We Say--

4-23 BALLYHOO

BIG NOISE: Our word "ballyhoo" comes from an Irish town, Ballyhooley, in the county of Cork. The word was first used by English people, who maintained that Ballyhooley had a great many lawbreakers among its citizens. Since they made so much noise, they called attention to themselves. We use the word now to mean "a big noise" that accompanies something.

City Comptroller Favors Campaign On Betting Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame says he would be "delighted" to campaign Update for legalization of offtrack betting, and "I think the mayor would too."

Beame said on the "Let's Find Out" radio program (WCBS) Sunday that citizens committees for legalization of offtrack betting had already been formed in some Update communities that are traditionally Republican.

The Democratic-controlled city has attempted for years to obtain legalization of offtrack betting on horse races, but the Republican controlled State Legislature has refused to give approval.

Beame, a Democrat, noted that Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner has proposed a record $2.5 billion budget for the coming fiscal year and said the need for the revenue from legalized offtrack betting is now more vital than ever.

Congress authorized setting aside ground in New York Harbor for the Statue of Liberty in 1877.

Filibuster Could Develop Against CR Bill

By JACK BELL.

WASHINGTON (AP)—With House members still on Easter vacation, the Senate pulls the curtain open this week on what could become a full-blown Southern filibuster against an administration civil rights bill.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana is committed to move early in the week to bring up a measure to abolish the literacy tests still used in some states as a qualification for voting in federal elections. Civil rights advocates contend such tests have been used to keep Negroes from voting.

Mansfield may use a parliamentary maneuver to bring before the Senate without debate a minor bill for which he then can move to substitute legislation which would establish a sixth-grade education as the sole literacy qualification for voting in federal elections.

The bill now is pending before a Senate judiciary subcommittee, which cancelled a meeting scheduled for Tuesday to consider acting on it.

Mansfield's motion is certain to generate a filibuster with 18 Southern senators parcelling out the time to keep the talk going in an effort to prevent a vote.

Whether the Senate can act on the bill apparently will be determined by whether leaders can muster a two-thirds majority of those voting to cut off debate under the cloture rule. Mansfield has indicated he will wait at least 10 days before seeking such a limitation.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a supporter of the administration's bill, said this will provide an acid test of whether there is to be any major civil rights legislation in this session of Congress. The Senate never has invoked its debate limitation rule to force passage of a civil rights bill.

U.N. FOUNDATION

The debate over whether the United States should purchase $100 million in United Nations bonds points up a basic situation which many believe seriously impedes, and could ultimately wreck, the international body.

The loan was floated to meet the extraordinary expenses incurred by the U.N. in its peace-keeping operations in the Middle East and the Congo. These expenses are outside the routine administrative budget, which is met by regular payments by the member nations.

Keeping the peace, or at least helping to prevent the outbreak of another major war, is the original and all-important reason for the very existence of the United Nations, its advocates argue. The fact that sovereign States, both big and small, East and West, can ignore special assessments because they don't like a certain policy makes a mockery of the U.N. Charter and the democratic parliamentary procedure by which U.N. policies are reached.

Because of this, the suggestion is being heard more and more often from those who would strengthen the U.N. that it must somehow become financially independent. It will never be a truly effective and respected force until it is free from such begging strategems as the bond plan.

How could the U.N. get money except by dues from its members? Sen. Hubert Humphrey, for one, urges that "new sources of wealth which are being opened up by advances in science and technology outside the jurisdiction and present taxing authority of any national state may offer the means of financial assistance."

Hard to believe as it may be, there do indeed exist sources of wealth untaxed by national states.

Humphrey suggests space traffic and satellite communications, the minerals in international waters and oil that may lie beneath the oceans. The unexploited resources of Antarctica could be made available for U.N. revenues.

The United Nations today labors under much the same difficulties that the United States did under the Articles of Confederation. Then the government could only "recommend" what monies each virtually independent state should contribute toward the operation of the confederation.

It didn't work. Neither will the U.N. under the present system.

The British government has launched an anti-cigarette campaign because of the cancer threat. This has the tobacco industry smoking.

Sonny Liston says he'll knock Champion Floyd Patterson out in two or three rounds. Sounds like a case of psychological overtraining.

Russia will help create a world communications system using satellites. Well, the Kremlin's had a lot of experience ordering satellites around.

AID TO THE INNOCENT

Americans have always been justly respected for an interest in, and concern for children.

Many have been demonstrating this anew by providing badly needed foster care for Cuban refugee youngsters who enter this country.

When there are no relatives or close family friends to care for these children, the burden under the U.S. Cuban refugee program falls next on welfare institutions. But welfare authorities, seem to agree that foster homes are much better for them.

Of the 4,000 unaccompanied children given care since the program began a year ago, nearly 2,000 are getting institutional care and about 525 are with foster families.

The proportions ought to be stronger in favor of family care. With 300 Cuban kids arriving in the U.S. every month, the opportunities for a show of traditional American concern are legion.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
SILVER

Talking about inflation, it has been historical experience that when there is no metal support for currency, inflation occurs and the currency loses in value, that is, in purchasing power. I know of no data which upsets this basic principle and experience about money. Perhaps the United States Treasury has come into possession of such data.

On November 27, 1961, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon wrote a letter to the President in which he explained the present position of silver in the world and in the United States. He then made the following proposal to the President:

"... I propose that we now begin an actual though gradual, withdrawal of silver bullion from the currency reserves, permitting substitution of federal reserve notes for the silver certificates withdrawn, and using the bullion thereby released to meet our continually heavy coinage requirements."

It would seem to me that this is another step in the withdrawing of metal support for the dollar. On November 28, 1961, President Kennedy wrote Secretary of the Treasury Dillon as follows:

"On the basis of your recommendations and the studies conducted by the Treasury and other departments, I have reached the decision that silver metal should gradually be withdrawn from our monetary reserves."

"Simultaneously with the publication of this letter, you are directed to suspend further sales of 'free' silver, and to suspend use of 'free' silver held by the Treasury in coinage. In this way, the remaining stock and any subsequently acquired can be used, at your discretion, to contribute to the maintenance of an orderly market in silver and for such other special purposes as you may determine. In order to meet coinage needs, the amount of silver required for this purpose should be obtained by retirement from circulation of a sufficient number of five-dollar and ten-dollar silver certificates."

"Pursuant to this general determination, I intend to recommend to Congress, when it reconvenes, that it repeal the acts relating to silver of 19 June, 1934, 6 July, 1939, and 31 July, 1946. The existing tax on transfers of interest in silver bullion has been necessary only to provide reinforcement for this legislation. I will therefore simultaneously propose that the relevant portion of the Internal Revenue Code also be repealed. "These actions will permit the establishment of a broad market for trading in silver on a current and forward basis comparable to the markets in which other commodities are traded. Our new policy will in effect provide for the eventual demonetization of silver except for its use in subsidiary coinage."

"Although the potential supply of silver now embodied in the outstanding five-dollar and ten-dollar certificates will be sufficient to cover coinage requirements for a number of years, I believe this is an appropriate time to provide for the gradual release of the silver now required as backing for one-dollar and two-dollar silver certificates. I shall therefore also recommend that legislation be enacted to accomplish this purpose and authorize the Federal Reserve Banks to include these denominations in the range of notes they are permitted to issue."

Sincerely
John F. Kennedy
The publication of this letter, indicating "the eventual demonetization of silver except for its use in subsidiary coinage," did not startle Europe where the American inflation is being watched both as a political and an economic phenomenon. The end of the year 1961 brought to a virtual end bi-metalism in the United States and as gold cannot, under the law, be exchanged for currency by an American but may be by a European or an Asiatic, the American dollar has only such metal support as the Treasury owns gold.

During the Hoover and Roosevelt Administrations, Senators Borah and Pittman fought violently for bi-metalism in the United States. Their principal interest was not sound currency but support for the American silver mining industry. It was the increase in the price of silver in the United States which produced a frightful inflation in China and was one major cause for the success of the Chinese Communists against Chiang Kai-shek. Both China and Hong Kong went on a gold basis and today there is practically no silver standard country on Earth. As recently as the end of 1960 and the beginning of 1961, the London market reported a large exodus of silver from China.

These Steps Will Prevent

The Anemias of Childhood

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A baby or youngster with sallow complexion is not necessarily anemic. He or she may merely have a "house color" due to insufficient exposure to sunlight or to such bundling when out of doors the rays never shine on the face.

Anemia is not a disease. It's a symptom. Its prevention and correction are dependent on finding the cause and eliminating or controlling it. Merely giving or prescribing a "blood tonic" is like bailing a boat without looking for and stopping the leak.

Here are specific things that can be done to prevent the anemias of infancy and childhood:
Have parental bloods tested for incompatibilities before or immediately after conception so that necessary steps may be taken to deal with the anemia of the newborn that sometimes results from destruction of many of the baby's red blood cells.

During pregnancy, mother should concentrate on iron-rich foods to ward off a maternal anemia that will, in turn, affect the rapidly growing passenger. Iron-rich foods include lean beef, kidneys, calves' and chicken livers, pork, lamb chops, egg yolk, green peas, lima and kidney beans, apricots, raisins and prunes. Rarely is it necessary to take so-called tonics containing iron salts. And only very exceptionally is anything gained by addition of vitamins, manganese, cobalt, liver extract or folic acid. Only if the stomach is completely intolerant is the giving of iron shots warranted or justified.

As soon as possible, feed the infant with supplements of iron-rich foods in pureed form. Prevent a "bottle-anemia" by early use of mashed meats or vegetables chosen from the list above. Rarely is it necessary to give or prescribe blood tonics. And the simplest and least irritant tonic is a chemically pure iron salt whose effectiveness is not increased by addition of vitamins, liver extract, folic acid, manganese or cobalt. Only under most unusual circumstances is it necessary to give a baby iron shots, although occasionally a transfusion may be required to get a speedy effect.

Treat infections with drugs other than the sulfas or chloramphenicol (Chloromycetin). These and related antibiotics may damage the bone marrow factory whereas penicillin and equally effective miracle drugs do not.

And finally, insist that the presence of an anemia be confirmed by the findings of a qualified laboratory. Technical errors are almost certain to occur if the color determination is done with blotting paper. Errors in interpretation may be encountered if the laboratory technician is unaware of rapidly changing standards during the first year of life. To avoid both errors, have the blood examined by your doctor or by a technician whom he trusts. Leave interpretation of the report to your doctor and to no one else. This procedure may involve an additional fee, but, in the long run, it will probably save you time, money and worry.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Late as usual, the cherry blossoms have lingered longer than usual in this year's late spring chill.

But those hardy perennials, the hothouse orchids that bloom on the bosoms of the "Daughters of No More American Revolutions," as Upton Sinclair once called them, are right on time.

American Society of Newspaper Editors usually hits Washington the same time as the DAR — any similarity between the two organizations being implied and definitely not stated. This year, however, the editors went to New Orleans where the weather and the news were both a lot hotter in view of the headlines being made by Archbishop Rummel and Mrs. B. J. Galliot.

BY COMPARISON, THINGS IN WASHINGTON were dull, now that the steel price controversy has simmered down. The First Family was in Palm Beach for a long Easter weekend and Congress was closing up shop for a 10-day recess. There wouldn't have been anyone to brief the editors on what mischief the government was up to, even if they had come to town.

To take the place of the editors, the Republican Women's Conference celebrated its 10th anniversary in Washington, and these ladies were much easier to look at than editors.

The Republican women were even an improvement on the DAR. Younger, trimmer, slimmer, better groomed, more fashionably turned out. No orchids, but enough flowered hats of such strange designs and hues as to make mother nature's own pale pink cherry blossoms fall to the ground in shame.

CLOSING EVENT FOR THE GOP LADIES' three-day program was a luncheon at which New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was principal speaker and attraction. Before the food and talk, the governor and GOP National Committee Chairman William E. Miller stood in line for an hour and a half to shake hands with nearly 1,000 women.

Singly, in pairs, trios or quartets, all the women were photographed holding hands with the governor and chairman or being politely complimented. Every woman was then given a coupon by which she could order a print to show family or impress friends.

Mrs. Clare B. Williams of Florida, assistant GOP national chairman and director of its women's division presided at the luncheon in a white hat and scarlet suit on which was a gorgeous golden corsage, only orchid in the room.

"It's from Barry Goldwater to all of you," Mrs. Williams explained, "and I want you all to know what was on the card: 'I'll get the money from the men. You get the women and the Republicans will win in November.'"

Some of the ladies who were obvious Goldwater fans applauded loudly, others quietly.

REV. BERNARD BRASKAMP, chaplain of the House of Representatives, offered the invocation in which he prayed that the Republicans might be "conservative without being reactionary, liberal without being radical."

Rockefeller practically made that the text for his off-the-cuff speech.

"The Republican party has wasted time on what's liberal and what's conservative," he said. "We blind ourselves to the realities of today's situation. Find the right answers and we'll get the people."

Later he admonished, "Don't just represent the people in the suburbs."

THE THOUSAND Republican leading ladies—state chairwomen and the obviously affluent suburban types who contribute to the party generously—gave him a big hand as though he was their boy, though the speech he made sounded more like he was running for re-election as governor of New York than president.

He didn't mention Kennedy or the Democrats once.

That was Cherry Blossom Week in Washington.

Meanwhile, the Daughters of the American Revolution, in another hall in town, were making up their minds as to just how they would go on in condemning nearly all of the Kennedy foreign policies and most of the domestic ones.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

After eight years as Vice President and earlier service in the House and Senate, Richard Nixon has now revealed that the House Committee on Un-American Activities would not trust the Department of Justice with its evidence. This condition had been well known in Washington for years. But there is shocking force in the charge when it comes from a man of Nixon's stature and status. And it was absolutely true.

The Department of Justice was so partial to any administration whose creature it happened to be that the idea of enforcement of laws against the party's own henchmen was ridiculous in a bitter way. The same has been true of the Internal Revenue Service in its persecution of persons who offend any of the reigning administrations. And it would be juvenile to doubt that the State Department had been rotten with treachery in view of the disclosures in the Alger Hiss Case. If we then include the spying of Harry Dexter White in the Treasury, and follow the trail to the White House we have to conclude that some in the Roosevelt reign made a pilgrimage — a mission, in a better, bitter word — to Moscow.

Nixon covers the futility of reporting information to the FBI in a few words. The FBI can't prosecute and must report to the Department. Then if the Department fails to prosecute that is the end of the matter. Nixon read in a Washington paper that the Department was "about ready to drop its Hiss investigation." Whittaker Chambers might be prosecuted for perjury, but not the fair-haired boy of the Roosevelt- Truman regime and Felix Frankfurter's protégé, Alger Hiss.

Officials said privately that unless additional evidence is forthcoming, they are inclined to forget the whole thing," the dispatch said.

This case had been reported by Chambers in 1939, but "the only action taken until the House Committee started its investigation in 1948 was to promote each individual whom Chambers named to higher positions of power and influence within the government."

Nixon lets Harry Truman off lightly. He doesn't doubt that Truman had the same contempt for Hiss that he had. I see no excuse whatever to concede this to Truman.

"The blame for failing to act rests squarely on those officials of the Executive branch who had full access to the FBI reports and failed or refused to order a full investigation," Nixon writes. "Hiss was just one of the members of the group from which Chambers obtained Government documents. Chambers' contacts included four men in the State Department, two in the Treasury Department, two in the Bureau of Standards," and so forth. "The record of negligence

Inside Story on Steel—Killing the Price Increase

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—This is the inside story of how an economic judgment of major importance was made within the steel industry only to be upset subsequently by the political judgment of the President of the United States, backed up by threats of criminal prosecution. The story is based on several days of research among many men in the steel industry and economists who analyze trade and financial news.

It is perhaps best to present the facts in what could have been a dialogue between an inquiring reporter and a group of men who, sitting as a finance committee, endeavoring to make an economic judgment just after the contract with the national Steelworkers Union was signed. Here in composite form is the result:

Q—"Did you assure the President or anyone else that you would hold the line on prices?"

A. "We not only didn't do this, but we couldn't do it without deliberately violating the anti-trust laws. We sat down alongside our competitors only to negotiate with the labor unions. We couldn't mention prices either to the union representatives or to the men from the other companies."

Q. "Wasn't it inferred or wasn't it implicit that, if the unions didn't get a big wage increase, you as a group wouldn't increase prices?"

A. "We gave no such promise or inference to anyone. The new increase of 10 cents an hour for labor in 'fringe' benefits, it is estimated, will cost our industry about $100 million a year. Somebody has to pay for this. This is on top of the 30-cents-an-hour increase in wages in the last three years which we absorbed without making any increase in our prices."

Q. "But after all the public discussion of wage and price stability, why couldn't you go along?"

A. "Because we have a responsibility to those who have invested in our property. We have promised to pay back what we owe. We had to make an economic judgment."

Began to Modernize

Q. "On what was your economic judgment based?"

A. "On the simple fact that three years ago we in our company began a program to modernize our plant and equipment at a cost of $1.85 billion."

was almost too flagrant to believe."

(Roosevelt himself had told Adolf Berle to go jump in the lake" when Berle brought the first report to him after a long interview with Chambers in 1939.)

When Nixon went before the New York Federal Grand Jury with the so-called Chambers pumpkin papers in 1948 "Justice Department officials demanded that I leave the microfilm with them. I believed they would prosecute with diligence but the House Committee (which had much greater experience with the D. of J. in such matters) had given me instructions that under no circumstances was I to surrender the microfilm."

The Committee had planted two agents in the gents' room to take the stuff from Nixon and go underground until they could put it back in the Committee's safe in Washington. Otherwise it might have been "lost."

A little earlier, Nixon and Stripling had had a "violent verbal battle" in the Commodore Hotel with officials of the D. of J. whether the Committee should continue the investigation or turn the microfilm over to the Justice Department and leave the entire responsibility to them. In short we did not trust the Department to prosecute the case with the vigor we thought it deserved."

Questions - - Answers

Q—What effect does weightlessness, such as prevails in a space capsule in orbit, have on liquids?

A—Liquids cannot be poured or drunk out of open vessels. They must be squeezed out of tubes, otherwise they would form globules and float around the space capsule.

Q—Which is the world's oldest national anthem?

A—The oldest national anthem is that of Japan (Kimigayo) in which the words date from the ninth century.

Q—In Christian art, what does the dragon symbolize?

A—Sin and paganism.

Q—Arondight was the sword of what legendary figure?

A—Launcelot of the Lake.

Q—Who was called the 'uncrowned King of England'?

A—Oliver Cromwell.

Q—With what English king is the sword "Curtana" associated?

A—Edward the Confessor. A symbol of mercy, the blunted sword is carried in the coronation procession before the Kings of England between the swords of justice temporal and justice spiritual.

Q. "Where did you get the money?"

A. "We got part of it out of surplus and depreciation reserve and part of it out of profits after paying dividends. This balance—about $800 million—we borrowed."

Q. "Why didn't you just sell more stock instead of borrowing?"

A. "Because, to pay dividends on your stock at five per cent, you would have to earn 10 per cent before taxes, which take about a half of your earnings, whereas you can borrow money at five per cent and get a tax deduction on half of the interest cost. And that's one of the major reasons why there has been such a big limitation on stock issues not only in our industry but in others as well."

Q. "But how do you relate this to your pricing policy?"

A. "We make a five-year forecast in our company as we take a long-range look at the economy. It's difficult to do, but finally you must make an economic judgment based on whether the market for your product will take the increase in prices and on what your competitors will do. This can only be based on published information in annual reports and on common knowledge as to markets and also on financial data in trade and financial journals in our industry. We can also make a reasonable calculation of the amount of depreciation reserve we are going to have over a period of time."

Q. "What was your judgment on this particular price increase?"

A. "We felt it was a moderate one that could readily be absorbed by our customers. We had experienced a six per cent deterioration in our cost-price relationship even before the latest wage increase. So a three-and-a-half per cent increase in prices seemed logical, since it was just a bit more than half of the deterioration which had occurred."

Q. "How did you come out in your 1961 operations?"

A. "We made just a little more than $2 million in our company above our dividend payments and above the $210 million reserved for depreciation. This latter sum is available for capital expenditures and amounts today to only a partial replacement of the capital we originally invested, during previous years, in plant and equipment that now is wearing out or becoming obsolete. In fact, all this depreciation reserve and profit put together has been less each year than what we have been spending for new plants. The total profit we earned in 1961 didn't even take care of our debt payment requirements. So it was obvious that, if we didn't do better in 1962, we would have to dig further into this depreciation reserve just to keep going."

Q. "Lot's of people are saying you will have to cut your dividends in 1962 — is that so?"

A. "Stockholders and investors play a vital part in the free enterprise system, and the best way to shake their confidence and either limit or eliminate that investment source is to cut dividends."

Q. "How does this relate to borrowing power?"

A. "Well, those who lend you money must see before them what is called a 'cushion' — enough leeway between the annual payment on your debt and your annual profits so that the lenders will feel they have a normal margin of protection if default occurs. The profit squeeze we're going through just isn't healthy for us or for the future of industry generally."

Q. "One last question: It has been said that what you did was 'bad public relations.' Did you take into account public reaction?"

A. "There is never a 'right time' to tell somebody they've got to pay more for each product. But we nevertheless have to make our determinations and judgments on economic facts. 'Public relations' will not help us if we cannot modernize our plant and equipment fast enough to enable us to compete with European products and to help us to keep our prices down so that we can compete with substitute products in this country. Nor will 'public relations' help us if we cannot earn enough each year to pay back what we have borrowed. When you go broke, that's 'bad timing' and 'bad public relations,' too!

Charities Aid Has New Director of Social Research

DR. DAVID WALLACE

David Wallace, Ph. D., has been named director of Social Research for the State Charities Aid Association, it was announced Sunday by D. Nelson Adams, president of the voluntary health and welfare organization.

Dr. Wallace succeeds Dr. Roland L. Warren, who has accepted a position as Quaker International Affairs representative in Germany for the American Friends Service Committee.

Recognition has been given recently to Dr. Wallace's study of voting patterns among new and long-established residents of Westport, Conn. Titled "The Sociology of Stability and Change in One Suburb's Voting," the report now is being prepared for publication.

Dr. Wallace has been conducting a course on "The Sociology of Public Opinion" at Columbia University, and will teach a course on urban sociology in the Columbia School of Architecture while directing the SCAA Social Research Service. He also lectured at the New School for Social Research and the New York University Graduate School of Business Administration.

Held Leading Posts

Dr. Wallace has been manager of marketing research for the Ford Motor Co., Ford International and the Ogilvy, Benson and Mather advertising agency. He also has been manager of Public Opinion Research for the U. S. Government National Production Authority, and manager of promotion research for Time, Inc.

Dr. Wallace is past president of the American Association for Public Opinion Research, and a member of the American Sociological Association and the Market Research Council of New York.

He received his doctorate in sociology at Columbia University. He had earlier graduate study in social psychology at NYU and Wayne State, following a B. S. degree from Westminster College.

Helps Agencies

The Social Research Service of the State Charities Aid Association helps private and government agencies to make surveys of community health and welfare needs. The association is a voluntary organization, founded in 1872, which fosters improved health and welfare services, both governmental and private, throughout New York State. Its headquarters are at 105 East 22nd Street, New York City.

Becomes Member Of Management Committee at IBM

DR. EMANUEL R. PIOR

NEW YORK—Dr. Emanuel R. Pior has been named a member of the corporate management committee of International Business Machines Corporation. Dr. Pior will continue to direct the company's scientific and technological efforts as vice president, research and engineering.

The former chief scientist of the Office of Naval Research joined IBM in 1956 as director of research. He was elected vice president, research and engineering, in 1960.

Dr. Pior is a member of the President's Science Advisory Committee and the Visiting Committee of the Department of Physics of Harvard College.

Can Appeal to NLRB, Courts

Paper Pact to All Close If Strike Comes Ruled Out

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compact among major New York City area newspapers—providing they will all shut down if one of them is faced with a grievance strike—was ruled today an illegal lockout arrangement.

The decision by trial examiner Charles W. Schneider of the National Labor Relations Board was directed against the Publishers Association of New York and its 10 affiliated newspapers. Schneider's findings can be appealed to the NLRB itself and then to the courts.

The papers involved are the Times, News, Post, Herald Tribune, Journal-American, Journal of Commerce, Mirror, World-Telegram and Sun, Long Island Press and Long Island Star-Journal.

A spokesman for the Publishers Association of New York said the association would have no comment pending a study of the 32-page decision.

Nor was there any immediate comment from the individual newspapers.

Announcement of the ruling coincided with the arrival in New York City of 1,200 publishers for the annual meeting of The Associated Press and the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Schneider recommended that the NLRB order the papers to cancel their pact. He said it was illegal because, in attempting to curb wildcat strikes or walkouts in the face of contract provisions requiring that such disputes be arbitrated, the publication shut-downs punished neutral employees not involved in one-paper grievances.

"Heroic medicines may be suitable in times of desperate need," Schneider said in his decision, "but the total blackout of perhaps the greatest single collection of competitive news media in the world in order to frustrate interruption of a segment of the enterprise, seems to be to compound the disease."

The examiner said it was commendable to maintain the flow of news that is vital to the functioning of a democratic society but the way the papers chose to do it compromised their worthy end.

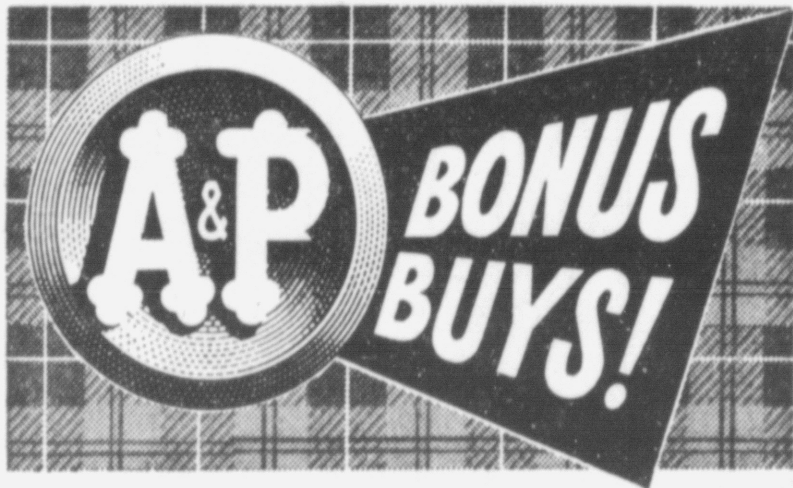

"This is not to question the good faith of the publishers," Schneider said, "for they had a private interest in maintaining publication, quite apart from impulses of public service."

Truman Outdraws Earp

LAMAR, Mo. (AP)—Harry Truman outdraws Wyatt Earp in this small southwestern Missouri town.

Visitors come in increasing numbers to see the old frame house where former President Truman was born. Few, however, ask about Earp, famed frontier lawman who was Lamar's first marshal.

Ironically, the state of Missouri bought the Truman birthplace from members of the Earp family.

No matter how you try, it is not possible to hold your arm completely straight; and a woman can't even hold her arm as straight as a man. The forearm and upper arm do not form a straight line, because the forearm is deflected outward about 10 degrees to 15 degrees in men and 20 to 25 degrees in women. This is called the carrying angle.

FOUR ROSES DIST. CO., N.Y.C. • BLENDED WHISKEY • 86 PROOF • 60% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS.

A penny can make your drink taste better.

The average penny doesn't go far these days.

Unless it's the extra penny it costs you, per drink, to buy a decidedly non-average whiskey: Four Roses.

Four Roses goes through extra distilling stages. To put more character in its flavor.

Then we take this blended whiskey one step further than other distillers. To keep its flavor intact. In your drink.

Ice can't melt away its character. Mix can't mix away its authority.

Sip number 14 is as surely Four Roses as sip number 1.

So the surprise isn't that our whiskey costs more. It's how little more it costs.

Your investment in a bottle of Four Roses comes to about a penny more a drink.

A better drink, that is.

$423 Increase$4,357 Is Given
By Wawarsing to
'62 Polio Drive

Miss Beatrice Weinberger, treasurer of the March of Dimes campaign for the Town of Wawarsing, has submitted her report indicating the outstanding success of the 1962 drive in collecting a total of $4,357.52. This is an increase of $423.87 over the 1961 receipts. Her report summarizes sources of receipts as follows:

Organizations $42; Special Gifts $1559; Coin Collections $195.20; Ellenville Mothers' March $808.39; Kerhonkson collections $342.09; Napanoch collections $384.04; Dime Boards $98.70; Ellenville Dance $600.40; Special Events $327.70.

Particularly notable were the TAP Teenage Program under Mrs. Charles Craft and Mrs. Irwin Stein which raised $229.42 and will be the subject of a special report requested by the national office of the Foundation; the Mothers' March led by Mrs. Edwin Hoar Jr. and the special gifts under Albert Lonstein. William Kelb, chairman and Miss Weinberger expressed their gratitude to all those who gave of their time and effort for this cause.

Miss Weinberger said that a possible reason for the increase in total donations might be due to the growing awareness of the National Foundation's expansion of activities into the field of birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis. She pointed out that the babies born with serious birth defects, one out of every 16 born in this country, cannot be reduced to statistics, any more than can the eleven million arthritis victims in this country. These are warm living human beings, she said, needing help for treatment and care today and that National Foundation sponsored research grants, scholarships and training holds infinite hope for those who come tomorrow.

To Vote on Union Of Two Districts
With Marlboro

After more than four years of legal battle, James E. Allen Jr., commissioner of education, has made an order which will permit Roseton Common School District No. 5, and Middlehope Common School District No. 9, Town of Newburgh, to become a part of an enlarged Marlboro No. 1, Central School District.

The order of Commissioner Allen was made on Wednesday and petitions are being circulated for a vote, to be held within the next 30 days, on formation of the new enlarged central district.

Excluded From Plan
Under the order the Roseton and Middlehope Districts are deleted from a master plan originally set up to include the two districts and five other school districts in the Newburgh area into an enlarged Newburgh School District.

Roseton Common School District No. 5, has substantially opposed the consolidation with Newburgh and back in June 1959 voted 1922 to 1779 to defeat such a consolidation move.

Roseton Common School District No. 5, trustees, Edward V. Clark, Samuel Derago and Mary Nameth, were represented by Kingston Attorney Charles H. Gaffney.

In May 1958 an order for enlargement of the Newburgh School District was made. Following that order Roseton commenced a court action asking that Roseton district not be included in the City of Newburgh School District.

Termed Not Contiguous
That action was based on two facts, that the district was not contiguous to Newburgh and that there was no suitability for the inclusion.

The matter has been battled in the courts since that time and meanwhile Roseton School District with some 17 to 20 pupils has, like Middlehope, remained a common school district.

Located in Roseton School District is the $28 million Danskammer generating station of Central Hudson which perhaps makes the school district one of the richest common school districts known. Since the battle against Roseton into Newburgh enlarged district has been pending, the taxpayers in the Roseton District have saved untold money, enjoying a school tax rate of between $2.50 and $3.50 per $1,000 of assessment.

Following a decision by the Appellate Court that the Roseton School District was contiguous to Newburgh, no further action by the Commissioner of Education was immediately taken and Marlboro and Roseton then brought an action asking that they be deleted from the Newburgh District and annexed by Marlboro.

Excluded From Plan
Meanwhile a plan was proposed to have Roseton, Middlehope and the other five school districts in the Newburgh area form a consolidated district. At a second vote in June 1961 consolidation was defeated by some 1,300 votes and the commissioner frowned on the proposal to form a new central district, a study of which had been undertaken.

This week came the order of Commissioner Allen permitting the Roseton and Middlehope districts to join an enlarged Marlboro Central School District.

Walter Camp, noted football coach, originated a series of simple physical exercises known as the "daily dozen" in 1921.

EXCITING INVESTMENTS
The United States Government's 1962-1963 defense budget calls for expenditures of more than $50 billions! That immediately reflects the kind of world in which we are living.

The cost of our strategic retaliatory forces is more than $9 billions. These forces include manned bombers, air-launched missiles, intercontinental ballistic missiles, Polaris submarines with their destructive appendages, and many other offensive forces.

The research and development program will cost about $6 billions. This is where space projects, basic and applied research and anti-missile missiles are perfected. On the drawing board now are the plans for the largest rocket ever built; it will weigh 5,000 tons and will be 300 feet in height. It will carry astronauts to the moon.

And having experienced the thrill of an astronaut circling the globe three times in a single flight at 17,500 miles an hour, who can doubt that sometime in the future another astronaut will land on the moon?

The biggest item in the defense budget is that of general defense—forces for use in general war or rapid deployment to any dangerous point on the globe. This item calls for more than $18 billions!

In the development of this immense defense program, a score of leading corporations are now actively at work. The values inherent in the common stocks of these enterprises are speculative in nature.

But any risk-taking investor looking for excitement might use a small portion of his capital in buying such equities.

From a list of twenty before me, I have chosen six for investors who can afford to speculate:

Boeing
Chrysler
Douglas
Ford Motor
General Dynamics
Lockheed
All of these stocks are well known.

At the present time, these corporations are interested in the production of the huge rocket just mentioned. This in itself shows the versatility of these leading enterprises.

And most of them have their eyes on the total U. S. Government defense program.
In any event, the common shares of these corporations are attuned to the dangerous conditions in the world.
Defense stocks should be bought by conservative speculators. Their dynamic character makes them bad holdings for those unable to assume risk for possible large capital appreciation.

Chrysler and Douglas, both with small capitalizations, are among the best for risk-takers.
General Dynamics, with five divisions and new management, carries potential appreciation commensurate with its risks.
All of these stocks have to be managed, and speculators in them should be alert to the conditions within the company as the winds change.

THE FORUM

(Q) "I am 36. I can save $5,000 a year. What should I do with it?" D. R.

(A) Put at least $1,000 a year in an insurance policy. Build up a cash account of at least $2,000. Invest $1,000 in blue chip common stocks, and speculate conservatively with 1,000.

Next Question, Please

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—

An attorney questioning prospective jurors for a negligence trial involving a motorcycle was seeking to insure against a prejudiced jury. He drew from an elderly, white-haired gentleman the concession that yes, he had once owned a motorcycle.

"When was that?" asked the attorney.

"About 50 years ago," said the elderly gentleman.

"Now, then," said the attorney. "Did you ever have the feeling when you were driving your motorcycle, that all the automobiles were ganging up on you?"

"What automobiles?"

Circus Acts Make It Rough Sunday For Song Stylists

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Funny thing happened to two of the nation's most talented song stylists during

CBS show Sunday night. Harry

Belafonte somehow got all mixed up with some circus acts on the

Ed Sullivan show. Rosemary

Clooney was surrounded by fishes, something called "Marineland Carnival."

It would have been nice if both of these performers had been permitted to walk out and sing. Belafonte did have the stage to himself for about 15 minutes after the clowns and dogs had disappeared. But poor Rosy had to contend with underdone comedy sketches as well as performing poorly.

Under one of those unwritten laws set down by the founding fathers of network television,

Easter night is aimed primarily at the children's audience—hence a show made at an ocean zoo and at the circus. It does make for rather dull viewing for adults who are not enchanted by trained fish or clown tricks.

Grownups as well as children may have been interested in

NBC's "1, 2, 3—Go!" earlier in the evening. It unveiled movie and television stuntmen's secrets, demonstrating how to fall off a horse or a roof without hurting yourself and how to have a vicious fight without landing one blow.

Those television fight scenes will never have their old zing again.

Somebody with time on his hands has been counting up and insists the average family is exposed to about 500 television commercials a week. Funny, it seems to me closer to 5,000.

Recommended tonight: "Breakthrough," NBC, 10-11 (EST)— operations, showing recently developed techniques for saving lives.

Views Features At World's Fair On West Coast

By BOB THOMAS

SEATTLE (AP)—"Meet me at the space needle, baby, and we'll get right to the point."

A local wag has suggested this ditty as theme song for the Seattle World's Fair. It is doubtful that it would succeed, but it illustrates the hold which the fair's soaring symbol has exercised on people's imaginations.

Symbol of Fair

What the Eiffel Tower was to the 1889 French International, the space needle is to the Century 21

Exposition. It is the beacon, the focus of interest, the topic of conversation.

Unlike the Eiffel, which only age and tradition have graced with loveliness, the space needle is an immediate beauty. It ascends white and fragile on a tripod of double beams with a lacy center core. On top is a fat discus which contains the observation deck and restaurant. A needle sticks up above with a plume of gas flame.

Total height: 600 feet.

You can get to the top by ascending 322 steps. A better plan is to take one of the three elevators that skim up the outer edge of the core.

So many squeamish folks have indicated a reluctance to make the trip that a second restaurant has been proposed at the bottom of the space needle. It would be called the Chicken-Out Inn.

Oh, it's not so bad—just don't look down. I did, while taking my first ride in the plastic-enclosed elevator and had second thoughts.

But once you're aloft, you have the feeling of floating in space.

Seen As Colorful Toy

Then you look down and see the

74 acres of the World's Fair spread out like a colorful toy.

Oops, don't look down.

You can look out and see the Olympic mountains far across Puget Sound, the Cascade Peaks to the east and—on a clear day—the majestic Mt. Rainier to the south.

The restaurant is called the eye of the needle, and it's enough to give a steady drinker the willies.

It revolves.

That's right—five feet a minute, a total revolution in an hour. Just the outer circle of the restaurant moves; the kitchen and service area remains stationary.

Yes, I know what you're thinking: How is the waitress going to find her way back to your table?

They're worked that out, too.

The dining space is divided into four different areas, with a different color scheme.

A couple of newspapermen provided the names for the needle's colors: Galaxy gold, astronaut white, orbital olive and re-entry red.

"Vingt-et-un" is the French name for the card game we know as "Blackjack" or "21" and the British as "Van John."

Seaway Section In U. S. Opens Its Season Today

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — The United States section of the St. Lawrence Seaway opened for the 1962 navigation season at 3:22 a. m. today.

The first ship to enter the Eisenhower Lock was the Murray Bay, a 17,000-ton Canada Steamship Lines freighter headed for Montreal with 600,000 bushels of grain.

The next ship to use the lock was the West German freighter, the Transpacific, headed for the Great Lakes. The Transpacific was the first vessel to pass through the entire system this year.

The United States section had been scheduled to open with the Canadian section April 15. But an 80-foot-long crack was discovered in a sill in the Eisenhower Lock during a test of the lock gate.

A total of 84 ships had become backed up, waiting for repairs on the lock to be completed.

Administrator Joseph McCann of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. was on hand for the opening. McCann, who has his headquarters in Detroit, had been at Massena since the crack in the lock sill was discovered.

The corporation administers the United States section of the international waterway.

At 11 p.m. Sunday night, pumps began filling the Eisenhower Lock with water. A total of 39 million gallons were required.

The lock gate was tested for about 20 minutes at 3 a.m. today, and at 3:22 a.m., a signal was given to the Murray Bay to enter the lock.

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Prof. William M. Sale Jr. has been appointed chairman of the English department at Cornell University. He takes over July 1.

Cornell announced the appointment Sunday. Sale will succeed Prof. William R. Keast, new dean of the college of Arts and Sciences.

Antique Collector Has Medical Items And List of Fees

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An Akron physician who collects old medical items says doctor's fees a century ago ranged from 50 cents for an office visit to $200 for an operation on a clubfoot.

The information is listed on a fee chart that is a prize in the antique collection of Dr. Edmund R. Plunkett. The medical society in Holmes County in Central Ohio issued the chart in 1870.

A three year search by Dr.

Plunkett has turned up more than a thousand things doctors used in the late 19th Century. They make a basement recreation room in his home look like a doctor's office around 1870.

The furniture includes a cast-iron stove, a calendar wall clock made in Ithaca, N.Y., and a double-duty footstool with a carpet inlaid lid for the built-in spittoon.

"My research indicates a doctor had to be a dentist too," said Dr. Plunkett, holding a hook-like tool. "This could be used on horse or man for teeth extraction."

He said a doctor then rolled or molded his own pills and had a herb grinder in which he prepared everything from asafetida to wormwood. Both are described in Dr. Plunkett's antique library as "stomachics and tonics."

All Dr. Plunkett needs now to complete his collection is an operating table.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Art Exhibit On Display at United Nations

The 12th annual exhibit of painting and sculpture by United Nations Personnel from many nations is now on exhibit in the great marble lobby of the General Assembly building.

It represents the work of diplomats, clerical workers, security guards, translators, for whom art is a form of personal expression and communication. This exhibit represents techniques of many nations, from the vigorous primitive sculpture of newly emerging peoples to the delicate traditional water colors of highly sophisticated Eastern countries, and the many modern European styles.

The American Association for United Nations group of Woodstock is planning a bus trip to the United Nations on Friday, May 4. A chartered bus will leave the Woodstock bus station at 8:15 a. m., arriving at the United Nations Plaza about 11 a. m. There will be time for the passengers to visit the book store and the gift shop and have lunch at the UN coffee shop before the guided tour which will begin at 1 p. m. At 2 p. m. the group will be received at the United States permanent mission to the UN. At 2:30 those who are interested may attend the annual meeting of UNICEF at which will be given the report of the 1961 Trick or Treat for which American children collected $2 million. That afternoon there will be workshops on various programs, Trick or Treat, Greeting Cards, Hi Neighbor.

There will also be a special treat for stamp collectors in the exhibition of stamps issued by WHO in its fight against malaria in many lands.

Has Science Prize

CORNING, N.Y. (AP)—Corning Glass Works said today that it and the publishing House of Little, Brown and Co. have jointly established an annual $10,000 award for science writing.

The award, to be known as the Corning Science Prize, will go to the author of the best original book manuscript — understandable to the layman—in the fields of natural or physical sciences. The manuscript must be written in the English language.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms. This formula is so effective that it is the physician's leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold without prescription in most states.

—in tiny tablets called Primatene®. These Primatene Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections.

The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms. Primatene—986, at any drugstore.

Summonses Sought For Blue Law Violators

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police today sought summonses in magistrates' courts against merchants cited for violating Pennsylvania's Blue Laws.

Only 24 alleged violations were observed by the 50 plainclothesmen put on the special Blue Law detail in the third week of a rigid enforcement campaign Sunday.

In previous weeks, as many as 70 policemen were assigned to make "illegal" purchases and each time issued more than 100 citations. But because of the Easter holiday, stores which ordinarily would have been open Sunday were closed.

Police planned to serve the summonses today so that hearings in magistrates' courts may be held Tuesday.

Blue Law violations carry a fine of up to $100 for the first offense and a maximum $200 fines for subsequent offenses. A repeat violator also faces a possible 30-day jail sentence.

Boyd May Pick Job for Himself At Parley Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Louis Boyd, unemployed Negro who brought his wife and eight children here on one-way tickets paid for by a New Orleans segregationist group, may select a job today.

He sits down with representatives of the Travelers Aid Society and the National Urban League to decide whether he is best fitted to become a custodian, truck-driver, freight-handler of restaurant worker or to accept a position with the Royal International Masons.

The job offers were among a score of favors heaped upon the 41-year-old former longshoreman and his family since they arrived by bus Saturday. They are occupying a $25-a-day suite which a Manhattan hotel says is their rent-free until Boyd "gets on his feet."

Meanwhile, the Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans — the group that gave the Boyds tickets and $30 for traveling expenses — reported that it is getting "more applications than we can handle" on its offer to send Louisiana Negroes north.

George Singelmann, a member of the board of directors of the council, said two busloads of Negroes were expected to leave about Wednesday on one-way fares to Washington. Another bus is planned for New York City, he said.

Boyd was described here as "confused by all that is happening—but happy."

He took his family to Easter morning services at the Concord Baptist Church of Christ and was given $100 by the congregation.

Boyd said $155 a month welfare aid the family was receiving in New Orleans was cut off last Dec. 16 when a doctor who had been attending him for pneumonia pronounced him fit for work.

He said he had been unable to find work and had accepted some aid from neighbors until he decided to take the citizens council offer.

President Is Back At Desk, but Plans 3rd Cruise

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy returned to paperwork today but planned to get in a third cruise aboard the presidential yacht during his Easter work-and-relax vacation.

During the next four days Kennedy will prepare for conferences with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who is scheduled to arrive in Washington Friday, the same day the President returns to the capital.

Easter Sunday was a relaxed and leisurely day for Kennedy.

In the morning, the President, his wife and two children went to the home of his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, for a private family Mass.

Then, under sunny skies, the President took his wife and several friends aboard the yacht Honey Fitz and glided out on Lake Worth.

Mrs. Kennedy, in a melon pink swim suit, displayed some expert water skiing, racing along on a single ski around the yacht for almost five minutes. She was towed by a speedboat.

The President, in gray slacks and sweater, relaxed in the big brown leather swivel chair on the back deck.

Members of the Kennedy family gathered here for Easter included the President's brother, Edward M. Kennedy, and two of his sisters, Mrs. Sargent Shriver and Mrs. Stephen Smith. Their mother is vacationing in Europe.

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, former president of Notre Dame University, said the Mass at Joseph Kennedy's Spanish-type winter home on the Atlantic.

For her Easter outfit, Mrs. Kennedy dressed in the relaxed manner of this resort—a simply cut tangerine sleeveless dress and a white lace mantilla on her dark hair.

Saccoman Opens Renovated Jewel Store Today at 8

Formal opening of the Saccoman's Jewelers Inc., 576 Broadway, is scheduled at 8 p. m. today when Mayor John J. Schwenk will cut a ribbon at the modern establishment operated by Anthony G. Saccoman and Mrs. Saccoman, of 18 West Chestnut Street.

Myron Oppenheimer is general manager of the store, formerly located at 578 Broadway. Customers are invited to visit the store today and during the gala opening during the week. The public is invited to register at the store for many gifts. No purchase is necessary to register.

Mr. and Mrs. Saccoman are the parents of City Judge Joseph Saccoman and Mrs. Rose Marie Hansen, of Kingston.

Will Propose Part Of Tax for Transit

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Rep. Maurice Goldstein, R-Allegheny, says that at the next legislative session he will propose an amendment to the state constitution that would appropriate a share of state motor license and gasoline tax revenues for use by mass transit facilities.

Goldstein said Saturday certain standards would have to be set as to what kinds of transit facilities would be qualified to receive the funds.

"Government has the duty not only to maintain and establish public highways, but also to establish a public transportation system for the benefit of the average citizen," he said.

"Right now, funds from motor licenses and gasoline taxes are

Instead, the chairman of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee said, the best remedies for the steel price-wage problem are public opinion and improved antitrust laws.

The subcommittee has launched an investigation of the steel industry.

Clinic Planned To Aid Families

NEW PALTZ — Saturday, April 28, there will be a meeting to discuss plans for founding a community psychotherapy clinic in lower Ulster County to be held at the home of Dr. Ben Wassell, 81 Prospect Street.

Dr. Wassell is especially interested in family therapy involving children and one or both parents. In recent years there has been an impetus in the mental hygiene field in which a research on family problems has been stressed.

In the past few years Dr. Wassell has developed a do-it-yourself type of workshop for the professional therapist, counselor, advisor, and hopes to engage in training personnel for the clinic. He feels that many persons could make their talents available more effectively, if they could participate in such a training program.

All lay persons and professionals who are interested may attend the exploratory discussion.

Film Showing Will Benefit Nursery School

The Huguenot Street Cooperative Nursery School will present the foreign film "The Sheep Has Five Legs," Friday in the Central High School Auditorium at 8:15 p. m., with an opening of a MaGoo cartoon.

Some tickets are being mailed to members of the community and will be followed up by a telephone call. Anyone interested in obtaining tickets may contact members of the nursery school's board of directors, or parents, or at the New Palitz Fabric Center.

The scholarship program which has been in operation for two years offers financial assistance for up to half of the tuition. It was financed through contributions of people who felt children would be excluded from a nursery school experience without scholarship assistance. Since the funds have been completely and successfully used up, it is hoped there will be a good attendance at the film showing.

The board of directors are Mrs. Paul Andrews, Mrs. Kenneth Duryea, Mrs. Peter Fogden, Frank Hamilton, Leonard Johnson, Richard Lent, Mrs. Frank Power, Mrs. Peter Savago, Mrs. George Schoonmaker, Mrs. Frank Tamburello, Mrs. Taylor Thompson, and Mrs. Jack Yuthas.

Also working with the sale of tickets are Mrs. Michael Van Ryn and several mothers of children who attend the school. They include the Mmes. Jack Erne, Robert Draffen, Lee Sunshine, Kathleen Kearney, John Weaves, Harold Scharf and William DeLuca.

Events Scheduled

Mrs. Frank Power, Girl Scout chairman for the New Palitz Neighborhood, has announced that there will be an open meeting on Girl Scout Finances on Thursday, 8 p. m. in the Reformed Church Education Building.

Representatives from the Ulster County Council will be present to speak and answer questions on the financial setup of troops and the neighborhood.

The "Cupid" dance will be their last square dance of the season on Friday, April 27, 11 p. m. in the Reformed Church Education Building. Refreshments will be served following the dancing. Bill Lewis will again be the caller.

The spring rummage sale of the New Palitz Methodist Church will be held Friday and Saturday in the social hall of the church, Mrs. Edward Morrisson and Mrs. Irving Dederick are the co-chairmen of the sale and may be contacted for transportation of articles to be donated.

Robert J. McKenna will be installed as the new commander of the Brannen-Vandenbergh Post 8645, VFW at the Post Home, April 28. A ham dinner will be prepared and served by members of the auxiliary. Following the dinner there will be dancing. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Betty McKenna, Mrs. Robert Corey or Maureen Hasbrouck.

He Reaches Scientific Goals, but ---

Man Still Hasn't Learned How to Get Along in Peace

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The awe-some explosions expected soon in the Pacific from American nuclear tests will be a fiery monument to man's scientific genius and his political adolescence.

He has learned how to shatter a continent, transplant a kidney, remove a cancer, orbit the earth, and now he is aiming for the moon. But he still hasn't learned how to get along with himself.

The American nuclear blasts, like the Russian blasts last year, will occur because the United States and Russia don't agree on an effective test ban treaty. For the same reason, the Russians say they will then have some more tests.

This can go on indefinitely, with both sides building even more frightening power, since there is no reason to think they can reach an agreement any time soon than they have in the past.

If Red China gets nuclear power and starts testing, and the French do some more testing, the world ought to look like the Fourth of July every few months or every few weeks.

Could Mean Many Deaths
This may seem to historians of the future—if not in 1,000 years, then perhaps in 10,000—foolproof evidence of the retarded condition of contemporary man.

The more awful the weapons of East and West become the less anxious they seem to test them on each other since tit-for-tat could leave them both dead by the millions.

Perhaps right there is the happiest thought of all in what some fear is steady progress to disaster unless the testing stops and there are arms controls—that in time East and West will scare each other into such sweet reasonableness that problems which now look insurmountable will appear pathetically simple.

But East-West failure to agree on no testing is only another chapter in the history of the world's general inability to get along since the last war which was the greatest testimonial to man's preference for brawn over brains.

Some Examples

Some examples come readily to mind: the Korean war, the Israeli-Arab war, the Congo war, the Indochina war, the Viet Nam war, the Laotian war, the Indian attack on Goa, the Hungarian revolution, the Algerian war, the Latin-American revolutions, the Berlin blockade, the Russian missile threats, the Cuban revolution and the Cuban invasion.

But while East and West disagree they also keep busy with disagreements within themselves: the Russians can't agree with the Red Chinese, the Albanians and the Yugoslavs (the latter can't agree with the Chinese and Albanians) on the proper road to communism; French President Charles de Gaulle often disagrees with his allies; the West Germans can't stand their East German Communist cousins; the left and right in Latin America see nothing reasonable in reason; and if things look moderately quiet now among the new African nations that's probably a temporary illusion.

Fresh Insights Tangle

All this offers an encouraging field for bright young men everywhere to pitch in, shove their elbows aside, and show what new views and fresh viewpoints can do to snatch order out of chaos and restore sanity to a world that often looks as if it's really losing its marbles.

The trouble, though, is that all through history bright young men inevitably had to succeed older men and somehow the new views were lost, the fresh insights got tangled. And before they knew it they were the older men—being nudged by younger men—who thought they had solutions which somehow always got snagged.

Airplane Traffic
Survey Planned
For Port Need

A survey of airplane traffic in Ulster, Dutchess and Orange counties will be started soon by the State Commerce Department to determine if there is a need to expand the Orange and Dutchess county airports or have another commercial airport.

Plans for the survey were confirmed Saturday by W. Dale Swartzmiller, regional Commerce Department manager, of Kingston. He said industrial and business firms in the three counties will be asked about their use of commercial airports.

Swartzmiller said Ulster has no commercial airport. He noted the Orange County airport at Montgomery will start operations soon. The Dutchess County airport is at New Hackensack.

Swartzmiller said that when the survey is completed the Commerce Department will report to the people of the Hudson Valley and let them make their own decisions about what airport facilities might be needed.

In 1961, Albert Richard, chairman of the Dutchess County Airport Commission, informed the Board of Supervisors in that county that the state would be asked to make an "impartial survey" of the county's future airport needs.

Deaths

NEW YORK (AP)—Raissa T. Adler, 88, widow of Dr. Alfred Adler, who first evolved the theory of "inferiority complex," died Saturday. She married Adler in 1898 when he was an unknown Viennese physician.

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—Robert Winsor McCay, 65, who was a model for the comic strip Little Nemo created by his father, Winsor McCay, died Saturday. His father drew the strip for many years for the Hearst newspaper organization.

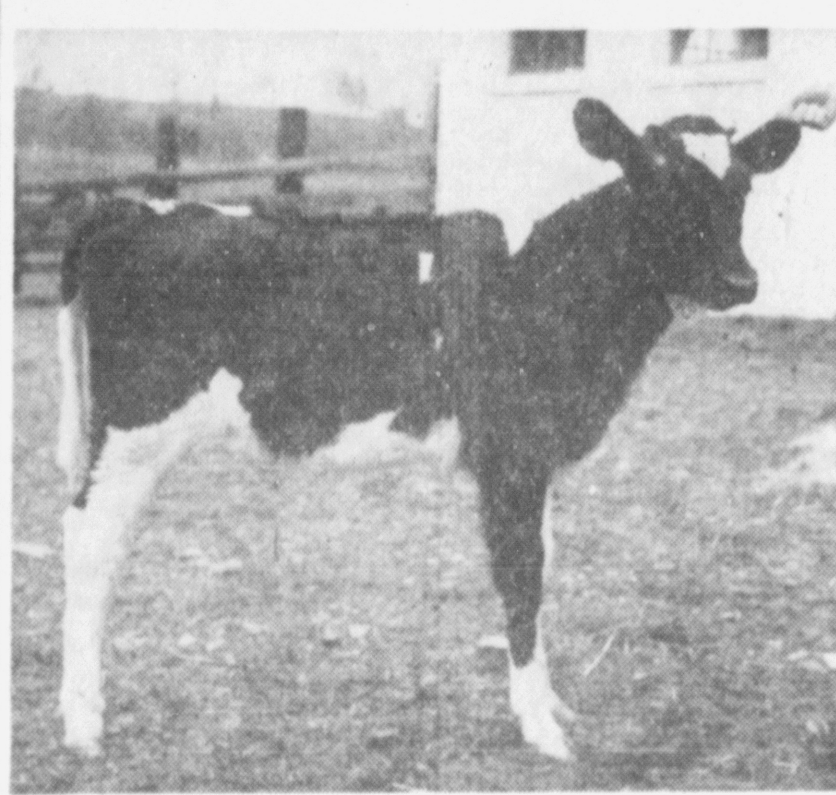

LONDON (AP)—Sir Frederick Handley Page, 76, founder of Britain's first aircraft manufacturing company, died Saturday. He was head of the aviation firm of Handley Page, Ltd., which he formed in 1909.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Edward L. Reed, 66, board chairman of Jacob Reed's Sons clothing firm and a former foreign service officer, was found dead Saturday, his wrists slashed by a razor.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Franklin Joseph Fox, 49, public relations executive and former newspaperman, died Saturday of a heart attack.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rear Adm. Wallace R. Dowd (Ret.), 66, died Sunday. Dowd was born in Fort Smith, Ark.

Holstein Calf as Award

Ridgely H. P. Donna, a registered Holstein Calf born January 6, 1962, will be given away to a Junior member of the U-S-O Holstein Club on April 26.

The occasion is the annual spring banquet of the Ulster-Sullivan-Orange Holstein Club which will be held at the New Hurley Church on Thursday, April 26, at 7:30 p. m. Dale Button from the state office will be there to explain possible Junior programs.

The calf, given by the club in cooperation with Mrs. Leggett of Ridgely Farms, is sired by Hickory Creek High Point EX-SMT. The dam has at 1-11 in 305d 412F 4.2 per cent, and at 2-11 in 365d 610 F 3.9 per cent.

In addition to the calf, there will be other prizes for a brand new member, one general award, plus a few smaller ones for the Juniors.

Rocky Believes
He Can Make More
Jobs if Returned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says that if he is given another four years in office in the November election, he believes he can help make New York "a full employment state."

Rockefeller, considered a potential Republican candidate for President in 1964, said increased job opportunities would be the major issue in his re-election campaign this fall.

Rockefeller said there had been a net increase of 450,000 jobs in the state in the last 3½ years. When he took office, he said, unemployment was above the national average, but now it is below the national average.

"We're very proud that things are rolling," Rockefeller declared. He added:

"We've still got unemployment and in some areas it's serious, but if we can just build on what we've done, in the next four years I think we can lick this problem and develop a full-employment state."

The economic growth rate, Rockefeller said, is a key factor in increasing job opportunities. When he took office, he said, New York State's growth rate was below the national average, now it is above.

Rockefeller further stated: "Until our economy has expanded to a point where every man and woman in the work force today, or the young people coming out of school and college, have an opportunity to find a good job...then we haven't fulfilled our basic responsibility as leaders in a free society."

Referring to a possible Democratic opponent in this year's election—Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City—Rockefeller said the mayor was "having a pretty rough time" in his job. The governor said the recent teachers' strike was an indication of Wagner's difficulties.

Rockefeller said his main political responsibility this year lay in New York State.

Thruway Revenue
13 Per Cent Over
Last Year Now

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Thruway Authority reported today its revenues were running nearly 13 per cent ahead of that of a year ago.

Chairman R. Burdell Bixby of the authority said in a quarterly report that income for the first three months of this year totaled $10,483,640, compared with $9,286,657 for the corresponding period of 1961.

All but a small part of the income was from tolls. The Authority received approximately $1 million as its share of gasoline and restaurant sales, interest on investments and other income.

Bixby said use of the 559-mile Thruway system, as measured in total vehicle miles, was up 10 per cent in the first quarter of 1962—to more than 420 million miles.

The pattern of increased income and mileage has been a consistent one over the 10-year history of the Thruway.

Diving Resumes Today
For Second Man's Body

Skindivers today resumed search for the body of a man believed to be Clayton Sullivan, about 45, of Paterson, N. J., who presumably drowned in a boating mishap on Swinging Bridge Reservoir near Monticello.

Authorities said Ralph Chrisman, about 47, also of Paterson, and Sullivan rented a small boat Friday. The boat was found capsized on Saturday. Police recovered the body of Chrisman.

A car bearing New Jersey license plates was found parked near the reservoir. It belonged to one of the drowned men.

All Down the Drain

Landscaper's Dream About
Riches From Palms Fades

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Henry C. Soto stood forlornly in the dust, staring at his millions of little wilted palm trees—row after row of them. They represented his biggest dream.

From rags to riches and now, almost overnight, back toward rags. "That's the story of my life," he said.

"About the time you think you have it made, the sky falls in on you."

Gone, he says, is his hope of putting miniature palm trees and other tropical plants into homes all over the United States and Canada—of getting Americans to plant tropical gardens in their homes—and of making himself a mint in the process.

Down the Drain

"It's all down the drain," he said. "Five years of work and investment shot. We're washed up."

Until a week ago the ex-Arizona farmer considered himself rich and by most folks' standards, he was. He is one of the largest landscape contractors in the business, lives in a home worth several hundred thousand dollars with a sweeping ocean view. He hoped to net at least a million dollars a year from indoor palm trees sold through supermarket and department store chains.

Sold 100,000 Trees

He employed 100 people to package the 30-inch palms in airtight wrappers, sold more than 100,000 trees last year sampling public demand. He hoped to sell palms at a 10,000-a-day clip. He waited for his palms to reach the age of 4 years, when they could be sold.

The rains were heavy this year. Weeds grew between the rows of thickly planted palms. Last month the 30 acres was sprayed for weed control. Five weeks ago trees began to wither, Soto says. One month later: 100 per cent loss.

Nobody knows what went wrong, Soto says. Experts are trying to find out. He tried the one thing specialists said might save the crop: flooding with water. It made the young trees die even faster. Insurance prospects are up in the air, he says. It would take four years to recoup in any case.

Back to His $250

Soto estimates he lost 8 to 10 million little palms worth $3 million wholesale.

"It was a gamble. I know," he says. "but it looked good. Imagine being able to buy a nice palm in New York City for $1.49."

Soto, 41, expects to go out of the landscaping business now. His capital and financing depended on the trees, he says.

"I started 19 years ago with $250," he says philosophically. "Now I guess I'm back to $250 again."

Murder Case Adjudged

The second degree murder case involving Alvin Williams, 32, Marlboro, has been adjudged until June 4 for motions according to Ulster County District Attorney David W. Corwin, New Paltz. Williams pleaded innocent to an indictment charging him with the shotgun slaying of Asa Herring, 45, on a Marlboro farm where they were employed at the time of the shooting on Jan. 21. Attorney Andrew Cook Jr., Kingston, has been assigned as counsel for the defendant.

Frankle Appointed

Sidney Frankle, Liberty hardware store owner, has been appointed to the Stratton for Governor Committee by Daniel V. McNamee of Albany, chairman of the committee. Frankle will organize Sullivan County in the campaign to win Democratic gubernatorial nomination for Representative Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady.

Student Nurses Take Part in Nurse Week; Name Representative

Student nurses of Benedictine, Kingston and Columbia Memorial Hospitals who are members of Area 13 of the Student Nurses Association of New York State and professional nurses of District No. 11 of the New York State Nurses Association join together this week in the celebration of Nurse Week, April 23 to 28.

Serving on the committee are Student Nurses Diane Markle, Dina Izzillo and Shelia Curtis, and Registered Nurses Mrs. Ted Weiner and Miss Wilma Jones.

Activities began in Kingston with the proclamation of Monday, April 23 as Nurse Day by Mayor John J. Schwenk. On Wednesday, the area students will bestow the title of Area Student Nurse on a selected candidate to be chosen that evening at a meeting in the Benedictine Nurses Auditorium. The area student nurse will be a delegate to the student nurse meetings at the American Nurses Association Convention being held in Detroit in May this year.

"Tender, loving care" will be the theme of a Nurse Week window at the W. T. Grant Store on Wall Street, Kingston where the uniforms of the Benedictine and Kingston Hospital Schools of Nursing will be shown. A nurse week window will also be on display in Catskill.

Another project of the students is the preparation of food baskets for a home for the aged and an orphanage in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario Giannuzzi of 38 St. James Street, Kingston, announce plans are being made for the marriage of their daughter Anita Barbara to Fred Alan Schoonmaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schoonmaker of 627 Delaware Avenue, Kingston.

Miss Giannuzzi is a 1960 graduate of Kingston High School, and is now employed as a secretary for Krom & Canavan Real Estate and Insurance Office, Kingston.

Mr. Schoonmaker is a 1959 graduate of KHS and is employed at Pettigrew Tool Company, Saugerties.

The wedding is planned in May.

Republican Women

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club will be held Thursday, April 26, 8 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mrs. Bernhardt S. Kramer will report on the annual spring luncheon to be held at William's Lake, May 5. Reports will be given by Mrs. John Schomer on the national conference recently in Washington D. C. Guest speaker will be Joe Kelly, Editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman. Club members and friends to attend the meeting.

Area DAR Delegates Return from Parley

Mrs. J. Baker Burroughs, regent and Mrs. Adam H. Porter, delegate of Wiltwyck Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution have returned from Washington where they attended the week-long sessions of Continental Congress in Constitution Hall.

At the annual New York State meeting and luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel Tuesday, April 17, Mrs. Porter was appointed state chairman of the DAR Manual for Citizenship for the coming three years. This manual is used throughout the country by the instructors in the Americanism classes for prospective citizens, and since its inception in 1918, over nine million copies have been distributed. A revised edition of 50,000 manuals is just off the press.

Recently the Braille Institute of America was granted permission by the DAR for translation into use for the blind.

Local Barber Shop Chapter Will Host Poughkeepsie Group

The Kingston Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will host a guest night program this Wednesday.

Paul Kauffman, chairman of this event, announced last week that the Poughkeepsie Chapter Chorus will make their first appearance in the Kingston area. The chapter was recently chartered and have entertained at many functions in the Poughkeepsie area. Quartets from the Poughkeepsie Chapter will also make an appearance at this event. Some of the members of the Poughkeepsie Chapter were former members of the Kingston Chapter.

The King's Men, the local chapter chorus, directed by Ron Gibbons, will be on hand to welcome all guests and to entertain. Local quartets will be performing during the evening.

Charles Styles, president of the Kingston Chapter, extends a welcome to all men to join in the evening of fun, fellowship and song, which is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. at the Elk's Club, Fair Street.

take it from kathy

by kathy peterson

Dear Kathy: I've had lots of dates but most of them have been for a movie or a dance and a hamburger afterwards. Last week I was invited to dinner at a fabulous restaurant for the first time. It was as if I had been living in a different world because I was lost from the beginning. I could tell by the way my date was acting that I was making mistakes but I didn't even know what was wrong. He hardly talked, took me right home and hasn't called since. I'm miserable. I know I can't change that evening but I wouldn't even know how to make a better impression the next time. —Char R.

Dear Char: Check yourself in case some of these very annoying things have become habits: chewing with mouth open, talking with mouth full, making loud noises when chewing or sipping; a liquid, washing down bites with a gulp of water, gesturing with a fork, leaving spoons in cups, making lakes and rivers in mashed potatoes with a gravy, holding silverware with a shovel-like grip, tackling a whole slice of bread rather than breaking off bite-size pieces, cutting all the meat in assembly line fashion before starting to eat, planting elbows on the table and resting your head on your hands.

When you arrive at a restaurant with an escort, wait at the entrance until the captain or the hostess leads you to a table. The girl precedes the boy and is seated first. After inspecting the menu, tell your date what you would like so he can give the order to the waiter.

A waiter passing a relish tray usually expects you to mention the things you would like so he can serve them. If you are expected to serve yourself, put the things to be eaten with the meat on your dinner plate and those to be used on bread on the bread and butter plate.

Teen-agers: Please send your personal problems to Kathy Peterson in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Community Concerts Member Drive Will Begin in May; Final Concert Is Tonight

Captains for the annual Community Concert Association membership drive will meet Thursday at 3:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Bernard Forst, 32 Maiden Lane. Workers materials and instructions for the one-week campaign, May 6 to 12 will be distributed.

The 1962-63 series will include concerts by the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, William Steinberg, conducting, and featuring Lee Luvist, pianist, as guest soloist; the Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra in a program of varied selections; and Metropolitan opera baritone, Frank Guarrera.

The present series closes tonight with the recital by famous singing star, Rise Stevens. The series featured the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra with Arthur Fiedler, conducting, and Jaime Laredo, violinist, in addition to Miss Stevens.

The Kingston Community Concert Association is an organized audience group who seeks memberships once a year in the spring and for almost a decade has maintained sold-out subscriptions.

Admission is by membership only and since the group is operated on a non-profit, no loss basis, the number of subscriptions signifies the quality of the artists signed for the season. Anyone is invited to join now simply by paying the annual dues to any worker or Mrs. Bernard Forst and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, co-chairmen of membership. No tickets are ever sold for individual concerts and so popular was the past season that the entire membership was over-sold in a day and a half of campaign week.

Workers will be urged this year to complete their contacts as quickly as possible and report to headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel so that the chairmen may know the progress of the campaign from day to day.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaile dugas

BY GAILE DUGAS

Dear Gaile: I have white lace material with pink intermingled threads and am thinking of making a long collarless coat, three-quarter or short sleeves and a matching sheath dress, sleeveless with a scooped neck. I want to line both with white taffeta and use a pink satin binding on front and around neck of coat. I want to bind dress neck and sleeves the same way. My question is: would this be right for spring and summer? Also, have mink stoles replaced scarves entirely or are mink scarves still in fashion? — B. H. E.

Dear B. H. E.: First, on the dress and coat question, advice comes from designer Andrew Arkin, who feels that you're absolutely on the right track. He says:

Fashion News in Knits and Cashmeres

The summer traveler and the girl who stays at home will love these lightweight fashions. Courtelle is the miracle fabric used for this three-piece suit (left). The sheath is a knitted silk (center) splashed with flowers. It is cool but not clinging. The first printed cashmere makes its bow (right) in this ensemble. Colorful cardigan is worn over simple sleeveless sheath. All fashions here are by Dalton of America. And all are perfect companions on a vacation.

GAILE DUGAS

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — All of the fashion news for late spring and summer is good. It tells a story of lightweight knitted silks that shed wrinkles, of printed cashmeres, of ribbed, knitted silks gay with print and of a man-made miracle fiber that is light, chic and washable.

In the past, women who doted on the luxury and soft texture of silk have sometimes sighed and given it up in favor of what they felt was a more practical fabric. But the new knitted silks combine the luxury of silk with the ability to shed wrinkles immediately. They are, in fact, the perfect summer travelers.

Printed cashmeres in truly beautiful colorings burst upon the fashion world this spring. Against a downy white background, brilliant florets of rose, aqua or yellow bloom forth. The printed cashmere cardigan worn with a simple, sleeveless sheath makes a costume of elegance.

Courtelle is the newest of the man-made fibers. It is light, cool and washable but, of course, most man-made fibers are. The difference lies in the fact that this newest fabric has genuine chic. It has been used for knitted suits that are truly handsome.

No matter what your summer vacation plans — this country or Europe — these are fashions worth your investigation. They can make your travel life easier, more comfortable and a whole lot prettier during vacation days.

Local Organization Observes National YW Week With Number of Activities Scheduled

National YWCA Week, 1962, which is being observed April 22-29 by the Young Women's Christian Association in Kingston, will inaugurate a three-year theme, "The YWCA — Where You Can Belong," according to Mrs. Eleanor Booth, executive director.

This year's celebration is the 15th in the nationwide observance. In Kingston a number of activities will be scheduled during the week and girls and women are especially invited to participate in any of the activities whether they belong to the association or not.

Inasmuch as it occurs during the spring school vacation recess, the Cellar Club, coed high school group, will have informal drop-in programs during the afternoons, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Regular meetings of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Y-Wives will take place Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The Women's Club is sponsoring a card party Thursday afternoon which is open to the general public.

The Sunday in YWCA Week will be April 29 since Easter falls on April 22. Members of the YWCA will go to the church of their choice on this day.

National YWCA week, Mrs. Booth, said, is a time when we in Kingston can join in a national program demonstrating how the YWCA, through its various services and its concern for the needs of girls and young women, is fulfilling its commitment as a women's movement.

The YWCA, she points out, is at work today in 71 countries of the world, offering opportunities for girls and young women of all races and creeds to find meaning in their lives, to develop to the full their capacities for leadership, and to play an effective and constructive role in the life of today.

TACTICALLY TEACHING BOY-FRIEND MANNERS

Q: I have been going out with a young man in his mid-twenties for the past three months. He is a very nice person and I am quite fond of him. However, he has one fault that bothers me and that is, he never removes his hat when talking to a woman. A few times when we have been out together and I have met friends of mine on the street with whom I stopped a few minutes to talk, he stood with his hand on his head the entire time. I find this very embarrassing and would like to know if there is a tactful way to bring this to his attention.

A: The next time you are with him and a man takes his hat off while talking to you, tell him afterwards how polite the man was in removing his hat.

Announcing Their Son's Marriage

Q: My son was married recently to a girl in a distant city. I understand her family do not intend to send out wedding announcements. We have quite a large number of relatives and friends whom we would like to have know of our son's marriage. Would it be proper for my husband and me to send announcements in our names to these friends and relatives? If not, how else can they be notified of the marriage?

A: You tell or write the news to as many of your relatives and friends as possible and they will tell others. Probably the society editor of your newspaper will write of your son's wedding, not as an announcement from you but as an item of interesting news.

Salad With the Meat Course

Q: I usually serve a bowl of mixed salad greens with dinner. I would like to know if it is necessary to provide separate plates for the salad or may it be put on the dinner plate?

A: When the salad is the only vegetable and the meat has no gravy or stuffing, a separate plate is unnecessary. Broiled chicken, for instance, is often served this way at luncheon or supper, and the salad is properly eaten from the same plate and with the same knife and fork as the chicken.

For the correct procedure of a "Second Marriage," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column. (A Bell Syndicate Feature)

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

It's the Diana in Us We Must Guard Against

Though the Greeks called her Artemis and the Romans named her Diana, she was a top goddess to both these ancient peoples.

One day, says the myth, she felt exhausted after prolonged hunting in the forest and resorted to her favorite pool for a refreshing bath. Protected by its screen of pine and cypress trees, her maidens removed all her divine paraphernalia: her javelin, her quiver of arrows, her sandals, her Olympian robe.

She was enjoying her bath when it was interrupted by a young hunter in pursuit of some quarry. He saw her naked, stripped of the glorious equipment of her goddesshood. So Diana destroyed him. She turned him into a stag, sent his dogs raving mad and had poor Acteon torn to pieces.

The myth was in mind as I read a reader's letter which said:

"My 12-year-old son has developed an embarrassing habit of correcting me in front of other people. I've spoken to him about it many times and asked him to wait until we are alone to criticize me. But he goes right on doing it."

"Yesterday I was telling a neighbor that a woman we both know had kept me on the phone for an hour talking about her troubles when my youngster walked in and said, 'You were talking on the phone for only 20 minutes.' He said he had timed the call because he was waiting to call a friend about their homework. What punishment can you suggest that would break this habit?"

What punishes children for criticizing us is the Diana in us. If we are willing to be human beings instead of goddesses, we do not set our dogs on a child who has exposed our humaneness. We say to the child who has retorted our exaggeration, "You may be right. I may have talked 20 minutes to Mrs. Jones on the phone though it certainly seemed much longer to me." We do not find the possibility that we need correction embarrassing.

But if we have pretensions to divinity, then we will surely get upset when a child challenges it by exposing our faults before others.

Always, behind the resentment we feel at children's criticism is the goddess's claim to perfection.

Myths, some very wise and learned people tell us, are not merely charming fairy tales. In the ancient myth about Diana and the poor young hunter who presumed to see her stripped of her power to command worship, we are not being told a story about a goddess but one about ourselves — about that part of us which demands worship.

Like all myths, it uses symbolic language to tell us that we human beings want to destroy those who see us as we are without pretensions, because symbolic languages is less ruthless and less honest than direct language. We can make of it what we are able to make of it.

The reason that myths survive is that they express truths about human being which are timeless, undying and universal.

Think about it. Who was angry that your child saw you as faulty, human and inglorious? You—or the goddess in you?

POLLY'S QUIZ

Stools for Extra Seating Add Smart Look to Room

In a living room that's not really large, two or three stools may very easily solve the problems of extra seating. When they are not in use, they may be pushed under a table or table desk.

Stools also solve the problem of what to put in front of a picture window. Use three or four matching ones placed side by side for a smart look.

Such stools come in a variety of styles, sizes, finishes and colors. The frame may be metal, natural or painted wood. For a very high style look, there's the stool covered in fabric.

Try three around a coffee table in front of a couch.

Dear Polly: We are furnishing a new living room. Our picture window is 32 inches from the floor. The Italian Provincial table with marble top that we want is only 26 inches high. Would it be all right if the lamp we choose has a very high base? Would a cocktail table with a marble top look all right with others that have plain wood tops?—Mrs. C. L. C.

Dear Mrs. C. L. C.: Do not put a lamp either large or small on that table in front of the picture window. If you like a long, low table there, choose one strong enough so that, with a pad or two at one end, it could offer extra seating. On the table section, have a few magazines, an attractive box, an ash tray and perhaps a growing plant. Certainly a marble-topped table can be used with others that have wood tops. But all marble-topped tables would look as if you had been to a fire sale.

Dear Polly: I am very interested in your budget bedroom decorated with sheets. The part that stumped me was the full sheet "to quilt for a bedspread." How would I go about that? Could you explain further?—Mrs. I. P.

Dear Mr. I. P.: Of course. You will have to have a lining for the spread. Between the lining fabric and the top, place a layer of cotton batting or even a cheap, thin, cotton blanket. Baste all three together and quilt in large squares, rectangles or diamonds.

This can be done either by hand or on your sewing machine. Bind the edges just as you would a quilt.

Dear Reader: A heavy volume of mail doesn't permit Mrs. Cramer to answer her letters and post cards individually. But she will comment in her column on decorating problems of general interest. She cannot undertake to return floor plans or fabric swatches which are enclosed with letters.

SANGER CABINET

Hospital bed set up in one corner of Emergency Room Suite.

A YOUNG PATIENT IN TRACTION gets a helping hand at mealtime from a Kingston Hospital Nurse. With a large part of population growth in the infant to 15-year-old bracket, the need for additional pediatric facilities has become acute at Kingston Hospital. A new pediatric section with 22 beds is planned on the third level of the proposed wing.

Many Non-Emergency Cases Wait

Records Show Kingston Hospital Needs More Room to Meet Demands

Kingston Hospital for the last two years has been operating at a critical capacity, according to Richard M. Kalish, president of its board of trustees. Many non-emergency cases must wait days for admission.

Throughout the nation, hospital authorities say that 80 per cent bed occupancy is maximum for community safety.

Some of the Facts

The facts are that during the past year, the average occupancy of medical and surgical beds at Kingston Hospital has been 92 per cent for private rooms, 93 per cent in semi-private and 91 per cent in ward beds.

for the month of February, 1962, the bed occupancy was 98 per cent in private, 97 per cent in semi-private and 97 per cent in wards.

Besides this present shortage, the board of trustees in deciding upon a building fund drive also considered the future demands of a growing population in Ulster County—one of the fastest-growing counties in the state during the last decade.

This increase was most noticeable in the infant to 15-year age group, 37.6 per cent; and in the over-65 group, 34.1 per cent. It is these two groups that have the greatest need for hospitalization.

Greater Health Protection

Sixty new adult medical and surgical beds will bring the hospital's capacity to 172 in that department for a greater safeguard to health of the community.

At times Kingston Hospital is sorely pressed to find beds for children. There are only 12 beds in the entire hospital reserved for pediatric cases. This in the face of statistics showing that 37.6 per cent of the state's growth in the last 10 years was in the infant to 15-year-old bracket.

Kingston Hospital authorities are planning to do something about this situation. A new pediatric section with 22 beds is planned on the third level of the proposed wing. The old section of 12 beds will be used for other facilities, thus making a net gain of 10 beds for the

Singer Lewis' Son, 3, Drowns in Pool

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Steve Allen Lewis, 3-year-old son of rock 'n' roll singer Jerry Lee Lewis, drowned in a swimming pool at the Lewis' suburban home Sunday.

Steve was the son of Lewis and 17-year-old Myra Gail Brown Lewis, the singer's third wife. Their marriage in 1958 caused an uproar that canceled a tour in England for Lewis. Myra, Lewis' cousin, was 13 at the time.

Elmo K. Lewis of Ferriday, La., Lewis' father, said the child was in the kitchen with his mother when he wandered away. After a search of the house, Mrs. Lewis called a neighbor to search the pool.

Pope Blesses 30,000

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Thirty thousand persons massed in St. Peter's Square today and cheered Pope John XXIII as he appeared at noon in his studio window to give them his blessing. Today is celebrated in Italy as Pasquetta—Little Easter. It is a holiday.

Lots of people can't count calories and they have the figures to prove it.

High Cost of Fishing

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—They've confirmed what wives have contended all along. Steelhead fishing is an expensive hobby for husbands. How expensive? Robert C. Meigs, of the Washington State Game Department, came up with these figures: It costs about $3.10 a pound for each pound of fish caught. That's $31 for a 10-pound fish. Ones up to 20 pounds are not uncommon in Washington coastal streams. Meigs figured an average 67,250 fishermen spent $3,365,900 annually for tackle, boats and motors, food, lodging and cost of transportation.

Gone Shopping...

...She Saw It in the Daily Newspaper

CONSUMERS WITH NEEDS TO BE FILLED and money to spend shop the ads in their daily newspaper even though they may not be searching for a specific item.

A current research study* reveals that four out of five readers like to look at newspaper ads as a regular part of their daily reading. This same study shows that consumers rated newspapers ahead of all other major measured media for advertising that can be depended upon for information that is factual, useful, and tells where they can buy the products advertised. And they know they can clip the ad and take it right along as a handy buyer's reference for shopping.

Advertising, national and local, in the daily newspaper is always ready to help the buying consumer make his purchase whenever he decides, "now is the time I want to buy." It's always ready because almost nine out of ten* families get a newspaper in their homes every day. Advertising is seen and read because the latest survey results available* show that 89,567,000 adults and 9,456,000 teen-agers read a newspaper on an average weekday.

Earliest prehistoric lamp dates to the Mousterian Age, the same age as the Neanderthal type man. This lamp was a hollowed piece of stone, very crude, and was found in the Le Moustier cave in France in 1928, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

They'll Do It Every Time

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By Jimmy Hatlo

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

This Gazetteer and Business Directory of Ulster County, for 1871-2 loaned to me by Attorney Martin F. Comeau of Woodstock and Kingston has no end of interesting material. What astounds me no end, that no matter how small the hamlet, even if a half dozen houses like Bearsville (in 1870) had a school house, Mink Hollow "is a narrow valley extending about three miles into the mountains. A creek of the same name flows through it. There is a steam saw mill, a number of farm residences and a school house."

Going back to the 1870's "Woodstock, some 12 miles from Kingston contains three churches, Methodist, Reformed and Lutheran; two hotels, a store, a school house, a tannery, a saw mill, a grist mill, three wagon shops, a harness shop and about 50 dwellings. The tannery has a capacity for turning out about 16,000 sides of leather annually, using 1,800 cords of bark, and employing twenty men. The annual sales are about $9,000."

What is so wonderful about this little thick book of over 300 pages that it lists the people who lived in Ulster County and why they did. I see they spell Vanderlyn, "Vanderlin, John, Jr. artist, John Street between Crown and Wall." I take it to be the nephew of the famous John Vanderlyn who died in 1852. George E. Styles is listed here as "Jeweler, 23 Wall Street." Turck and Burhans, had a full page yellow sheet telling the readers he was in the "Wholesale and retail, lumber business, yard being on Garden Street, opposite the Rhinebeck Ferry, in Rondout. He had a general assortment of pine, spruce, hemlock and black walnut, pickets, shingles and lath."

A reader from Saugerties writes me that the Kingston library has for general circulation a copy of The Proud Possessors by Aline B. Saarinen who has written of the lives, times and tastes of some adventurous art collectors. The monograph, Tea and Champagne (page 118-143) is fascinating reading. In it, Mrs. Saarinen discusses the taste, temperament and interests in art of Charles Lang Freer who was born in Kingston, N. Y. in 1856 and whose first American ancestor in 1870 was one of the original patentees of New Paltz, his background being French Huguenot.

The letter further reads: The Proud Possessors is delightful in every way and the illustrated sections are really beautiful. Mrs. Saarinen's husband is the famous architect Eero Saarinen and she is the mother of three sons. If you have not as yet had the pleasure of reading this book, truly, there is a treat in store for you, your admiring and devoted friend from Saugerties. I quote from this letter as I have read the book and have enjoyed it, and have mentioned it here, because I thought it had the clue somewhere of the Chinese vases which are on display in the library, that they may be from Charles Lang Freer, but can find no record of them.

Mr. Freer has relatives in Kingston and I hope to contact them personally. Mrs. Herbert F. Lown of Orchard Street told me about this book, as Charles Lang Freer is from her husband's family. His money built and furnished the same seven million dollar Freer Gallery of Art of the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D. C. The collections of oriental art, Biblical manuscripts, and works of art of James McNeill Whistler are world famous. Charles L. Freer was born in Kingston and is buried in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

WINGED MERCURY—A batlike "Rogallo wing" is suspended above a mock-up Mercury capsule in a hanger at Langley Research Center, Va. The Rogallo wing will be used in later flights of the two-man Gemini capsule to replace the conventional parachute when the capsule returns to earth from space orbit. The inflatable, steerable wing has a spread of 45 feet. The astronauts will control their landings using skids and outriggers for stability.

N. Y. Banker Is Named To Home Finance

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Banker Joseph E. Davis of New York was to be sworn in by Gov. Rockefeller today as a member of the State Housing Finance Agency to succeed George S. Van Schaick of Cobleskill, who resigned.

The Legislature created the five-member agency last year to lend money for home purchases to low-income families unable to borrow through conventional channels.

Davis, 52, is president and managing officer of the Carver Federal Savings and Loan Association in Manhattan.

Agency members are paid $50 a day while on agency work, up to a maximum of $2,500 a year.

Camera Firm Reports Record Sales, Earnings

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Record 1962 first-quarter sales and net earnings were reported today by the Eastman-Kodak Co.

Kodak said the consolidated sales of its United States establishments totalled $218,699,377 for this year's first quarter, as compared with $193,883,412 for the corresponding period last year.

The company's net earnings for the first quarter of 1962 were $26,264,885 as against $21,817,083 in the first quarter of 1961.

Former Mayor Dies

POTSDAM, N. Y. (AP)—Former Mayor Elmer J. Murphy of Potsdam died of a heart ailment Sunday at Potsdam Hospital. He was 67.

Murphy, a Republican, was mayor of this Northern New York village from 1937 to 1941. After his second two-year term as mayor, he served as supervisor of the Town of Potsdam.

Murphy had operated an automobile repair service here since 1920.

DOES GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKE YOU FEEL OLD

After 35, common Kidney or Bladder irritations often occur and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from Headaches, Backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYS-TEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by giving analgesic pain relief. Get CYS-TEX at drugstore. Cheer up and feel better fast.

FOREST FIRES AND YOU!

Did you ever wonder about forest fires and why Smokey Bear tries to keep them down? SMOKEY says that every forest fire costs too much. Just putting out last year's fires cost more than $100,000,000, and it came right out of your pocket.

What else did you lose? You lost timber, millions of feet of it—timber that won't be there when you want to build your new home or put up a summer cabin.

You lost birds, animals, and fish, that add so much to your outings.

You lost priceless scenery, and recreation areas that are needed now more than ever.

Worst of all, you lost soil and water—the lifeblood of our land. Burn off the cover of a watershed, and the sure result is soil erosion, and destructive runoff of water, flooding our towns, silting our reservoirs. Water—most precious of all resources—wasted through carelessness!

There's much at stake. So, please, be extra careful with fire in 1962!

Remember—only YOU can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Dick Bartsch Named Field Manager of Kingston Braves

Local Players Will Be Used; Tryouts Soon

Dick Bartsch, who guided the fortunes of Woodstock in the Catskill Mountain League last season, is the new manager of the Kingston Braves team of the New York-New Jersey Baseball League.

Promoter Fred Davi made known the appointment of Bartsch today and the new manager said that this year's club will be composed of local and area players only. Bartsch said tryouts will be held in the near future and he emphasized that everyone who reports will be starting from scratch.

"We are going to field a young team which will improve as the season progresses," he said.

In addition to his job as manager of Woodstock last season,

DICK BARTSCH

Bartsch has a good baseball background. He handled the West Hurley American Legion club and also was manager of American Legion clubs in San Jose, California. He has been a resident of this area for 11 years.

Kingston will be in the Hudson Valley section of the 12-team N.Y.-N.J. league. Others in the section are Beacon, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Spring Valley and Haverstraw.

Final schedule will be drawn up at the May 5 meeting, slated to take place in Spring Valley.

National LL Meets Tuesday

Members of the National Little League will hold their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, 8 p. m., at Curly's Restaurant, 593 Delaware Avenue.

President Emilio Primo requests the presence of all members. Some important topics will be discussed.

Indians Break Stadium Jinx; Mets Set Record in Reverse

Beat Yankees In Twinbill; Now Pace Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who said Yankee Stadium is a graveyard for Cleveland managers? Mel McGaha must think the old hoodoo was just a paper tiger.

It was 2½ years and three managers ago that the Indians last won a doubleheader in the Bronx until McGaha brought the 1962 Cleveland club to town. In fact, they hadn't won a single game here since May 12, 1960 in the last days of the reign of Joe Gordon.

The Indians didn't win only a doubleheader. They vaulted all the way into the American League lead by 25 percentage points over Baltimore. They shot the New York Yankees' vaunted pitching staff full of holes, collecting a total of 28 hits while winning two 7-5 and 9-3.

While the Cleveland club was enjoying the fine Easter weather in New York, Norm Cash continued on his home run binge at Boston. The Detroit first baseman now has six homers in eight games. At that rate he could wind up with a 120 for the 162-game season. Cash hit his two during an 8-6 Tiger victory.

A's Sweep Chisox

Even Hank Bauer must have been amazed at his Kansas City A's who swept an entire four-game series at Chicago by taking a Sunday doubleheader 7-1 and 7-5. In the weekend series, 18 Chicago pitchers were battered for 30 runs and 49 hits, including six homers.

Jim Kaat of the Minnesota Twins turned in the best pitched job of the day in the league with a four-hitter against Los Angeles. With a little help from a three-run homer by Harmon Killebrew, Kaat won easily 5-0 as the Twins swept their first series in Chavez Ravine. They had lost five straight before meeting the Angels.

Baltimore's home run hitters enjoyed a delightful day at the new D.C. Stadium in Washington. Jim Gentile, Jackie Brandt, Gus Triandos and Brooks Robinson all hit homers. Brandt was the longest hit in the four games played in the new park—a drive of over 390 feet in Baltimore's 8-3 romp and Washington's sixth straight defeat.

Kindall Stars

Jerry Kindall, ex-Chicago Cub, was the big man for the Indians in their first victory at the Stadium with a bases-loaded triple in the five-run third inning attack that floored Bill Stafford. Willie Kirkland's two-run single broke a 3-2 tie in the seventh inning of the second, shortly after Luis Arroyo arrived on the scene in relief of Jim Coates. The Yankees' M&M Bunt were held to one single—a bunt by Mickey Mantle over the pitcher's head.

Two strangers to headline writers, Ed Rakow and Diego Segui, won for Kansas City over Ray Herbert and Turk Lown. The best of a long string of White Sox pitchers was Dave DeBusschere, the basketball star from Detroit, who worked a scoreless inning in his debut. Charles and Gino Cimoli homered for the A's and Nellie Fox hit one for Chicago.

Mighty Tide Wins

Roosevelt Feature

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mighty Tide, with two straight victories to his credit, has his eyes on next Saturday's $74,000 Realization Pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

The 4-year-old son of Hoot Mon, a trotter who won the 1947 Hambletonian, captured Saturday night's $10,000 Stepping Stone Pace in 2:02. The one-mile event is a prep for the Realization.

Paul Vineyard drove Mighty Tide, Shadydale Monitor finished second, three-quarters of a length behind the winner. Mississinewa was third. Mighty Tide returned $5.

At Buffalo Raceway, Reba Byrd nosed out Howard Rosencroft in a photo finish in the featured $3,000 Invitational Pace. Reba Byrd was timed in 2:05 2-5 and paid $5.30.

Musial Advances

Stan Musial singled in the first game and moved into second place in the all-time total bases list. He now has 5,794, one more than Babe Ruth and second to Ty Cobb, 5,863.

Bob Shaw's five-hitter and the lousy hitting of Del Crandall keyed Milwaukee's decision over Los Angeles. Shaw (1-1) committed an error and allowed two of the Dodgers hits, one a homer by Tommy Davis, in the first inning and limited Los Angeles to three singles the rest of the way. Crandall had a homer and two singles as the Braves handed Don Drysdale (2-1) his first loss.

Vada Pinson, Johnny Edwards and Wally Post hit homers for Cincinnati and Tom Haller for San Francisco in a free-hitting, wind-plagued affair that also produced seven doubles. Joey Jay (2-2) got the win for the Reds and Jack Sanford (1-1) took the loss.

Jack Baldschun stopped a budding Houston rally for the second time in as many days and saved Philadelphia's victory for Jim (Bear) Owens (1-1). He stranded the tying run on third after the Colts had closed to within one. Tony Taylor's run-scoring single produced what proved to be the winning run in the seventh. Dave Giusti (0-1) lost.

Pinson Hitting Well for Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—More than any other player, Vada Pinson is holding up the Cincinnati Reds at the plate in the early National League baseball season.

His third homer in four days with a man on base sparked a rally Sunday in the fourth inning, starting the Reds toward a 6-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Yet teammate Frank Robinson, Pinson's closest friend and the league's most valuable player last season, still is in an early-season slump. He failed to get a hit Sunday.

So far, he is batting a poor .181 and has driven in only five runs. He has yet to poke one out of the park. Last year he had 37 homers.

Pinson said he knew no reason for his early season slump. "I'm just hitting at the ball in the same old way," he said, "but I'm connecting now."

9th Straight Defeat Ties Dodger Mark

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Someday pretty soon," Casey Stengel declared, "we're gonna beat somebody pretty bad."

But the grizzled old manager of the New York Mets didn't say when. Nor how.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," Casey muttered after his Mets lost to Pittsburgh 4-3 Sunday, setting a record in reverse and helping the rampaging Pirates to a record of their own.

It was the 10th straight victory for the unbeaten Pirates and tied the modern National League record for most consecutive victories at the start of a season, set by the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers.

It was the ninth straight loss—five of them to Pittsburgh—for the Mets, who have yet to win, and tied the modern league record for consecutive losses at the start of a season.

Cards Drop Pair

The Pittsburgh triumph also gave the Pirates a 2½ lead over the previously unbeaten St. Louis Cardinals, who dropped a rain-lashed doubleheader to Chicago, 11-5 and 5-1. Philadelphia won its fourth straight over Houston, 4-3. Cincinnati beat San Francisco 6-4 and Los Angeles took Milwaukee 6-3.

"We haven't done too well with hitting; we haven't done too well with fielding. But when we catch somebody when we play pretty good, we're gonna beat them."

The Mets played "pretty good" but a run-scoring triple by Bill Mazeroski in the eighth broke a 3-3 tie and brought the Pirates their 10th straight. Bob Skinner homered in the sixth as Pittsburgh came from behind a two-run deficit. Jim Hickman drove in two New York runs and scored the other.

Lefty Ebb Veale (1-0) went the distance for the win and Sherm (Roadblock) Jones (0-1) took the loss in relief.

The Cubs hadn't won in St. Louis since Sept. 3, 1960 until making their sweep and ending the Cards' seven-game winning string. They punished Ray Sadock (0-1) with three runs in the first and added five in the fifth of the first game, with Ernie Banks and Ron Santo stroking homers. Dick Ellsworth (2-0) won it, but needed seventh-inning help.

Chicago also got off to a quick start in the nightcap, chasing in three runs—two on Billy Williams' homer—in the first inning. That was all they needed behind Cal Koonce (1-0) who spaced nine hits in going the distance. Bob Gibson (0-1) was the loser.

Randall, Other Champions To Be Guests at Golf Dinner

Northeastern PGA Sets May 7 as Date Of 6th Annual Event

Leon Randall, Witwyck Country Club champion, will be among those honored at the May 7 sixth annual Golf Show and dinner of the Northeastern PGA at the Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany.

Guest speaker for the event, a highlight of the golf season in the Albany area, will be Lloyd Mangrum, former U. S. Open champion and Ryder Cup team captain.

Three state and one former national golf champion will be honored at the event. State titleholders to be feted are Gail Purdy, Saratoga Springs and Paul Smith's College, women's state amateur champion; Peter Famiano, Edison Club and Linton High School, state junior champion and Ron Philo, Edison Club, state boys champion. The former national champion is Tom Creavy, Albany and Saratoga Spa, the 1931 National PGA winner.

In addition to Randall, other golf champions to be honored include: Northeastern PGA champion, Alex Sinclair, Mohawk; Northeastern Women's Golf Assn. titleholder, Margaret (Sis) Cramer, Antlers; Northeastern girls champion, Mary Lacey, Catskill; Albany Times-Union champion, Howard Derick, Antlers and St. Lawrence University; Northeastern PGA senior champion, Joe Creavy, Colonie; District blind golf champion, Tom Hurley, Albany; Northeastern Women's Golf Assn. senior champion, Mrs. G. R. Hallenbeck, Catskill and district senior men's champion, J. E. Dowling, Wolfert's Roost.

Randall will be honored as the Eastern New York Golf Assn. champion.

The golf show will take place from 11 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. with a cocktail hour to follow and the dinner at 7:30. Tickets are on sale at all district golf clubs and those planning to attend have been asked to make sure early that they have tickets.

Mangrum, one of the real showmen of professional golf, is rated as fine an after-dinner speaker as he is an iron player—and that's tops to those who have seen him compete.

Clay, Machen, Dupas In Top Bouts Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cassius Clay, Eddie Machen, and Ralph Dupas are the featured fighters tonight on a star-studded card arranged by Joe Louis in his debut as a matchmaker for the recently formed United World Enterprises.

Louis has arranged four 10-rounders which will be held at the Sports Arena in Los Angeles and telecast by closed circuit to outlets in 19 cities.

Clay, Olympic light heavyweight champion and unbeaten in 12 professional bouts, faces strong George Logan (22-6-1) of Boise, Idaho, in the top bout. The cocky, 20-year-old Clay, of Louisville, Ky., has a 12-0 record including nine knockouts. He is ranked 10th.

To Fight Whitehurst

Machen, the No. 2 heavyweight contender from Portland, Ore., meets veteran Bert Whitehurst of Baltimore. Clay insists he would like to fight Machen so this will give fans at the Arena and at the piped in outlets a chance to compare the two.

Dupas, top-ranking welterweight contender from New Orleans, takes on Everardo Armenta of Mexico and lightweight Eddie Garcia of Los Angeles opposes Tony Perez of Mexico in the other two tens.

Jabbing Joe Giambra of San Francisco will put Florentino Fernandez' repaired nose to the test Saturday night in the television (ABC-TV, 10 p. m., EST) fight of the week at the Miami Beach, Fla., Auditorium.

The Cuban's Hawk's beak was busted by Dick Tiger when the Nigerian stopped Fernandez in the sixth round of a slugging match on Jan. 20. This is Florentino's first outing since the third-ranked middleweight contender has a 30-4 record including

Mickey Brutchak Hurls, Bats Well For Winning Club

Saugerties High batters ran into lefty Mickey Brutchak at Guilderland Saturday and he hurled and batted the home side to a 5-1 victory, snapping the Sawyer winning streak at three games.

Brutchak, who chucked a no-hitter and had 17 strikeouts in a previous outing, was touched for two hits in six innings. He allowed both safeties and the run in the third when Paul Butkins beat out a roller to deep short, stole second and scored on Dick Marelli's bingle.

Starter Keith Mills was troubled by leadoff batter Dick Asch and by Brutchak. In the first frame, Asch singled and centerfielder Bob Skugstrand tripled.

Asch and Brutchak singled to score a run in the third frame and in the fifth, Brutchak hit an opposite field home run down the left field line.

Mills went five innings for Coach Bill Straub's club and Mike Fury mopped up. Brutchak hurled six for the home side with Skugstrand getting the last three outs, allowing one hit.

Saugerties has a busy week on the schedule. The Sawyers host Catskill Monday, meet Kingston Tuesday, Hudson Thursday and Windham Friday. All games begin at 2 p. m. with only the Windham slated on the road.

Cleveland Breaks Spell Against Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — Things were getting to a point where the Cleveland Indians rolled right over and played dead when they came across the big, bad New York Yankees here.

Over a period of two years, the Yankees had clubbed the Indians 19 times in a row at Yankee Stadium.

But the spell was broken Sunday when the Indians whipped the Yankees twice, 7-5 and 9-3. "As I have said," observed Indians' Manager Mel McGaha today before leading his outfit to Los Angeles for Tuesday night's game with the Angels, "this is a new season and a new ball club. Anything can happen and I think we proved it."

This is an $1,100 outfit, including cost of a trailer.

Own Your Own

By TED JONES
Marine Designer

J. P. Morgan said that a man who had to ask if he could afford a boat, couldn't.

This oft-quoted remark has done more to scare people away from the water than the sinking of the Titanic. Morgan was referring to luxury yachts—really ocean-going liners—in vogue during his era when small boating was impractical. Today, such monsters, requiring immense crews, are out of the reach of everybody but royalty and shipping tycoons, so if that's your idea, give up now.

A boat now is no more expensive than and can be financed just like a car. If you're in the $6,000 to $16,000 car range, you can afford a big boat, with all the trimmings. If you're in the compact car range, around $1,100 — less than the cost of the cheapest puddle jumper — you can have a 14-foot runabout, roomy enough for four, with space for lunch basket, water skis and fishing gear, a 25-horsepower motor for brisk cruising and skiing, a trailer and such accessories as lifejackets, buoyant cushions, lights, fire extinguisher and horn. Boat and motor will cost about $825, trailer $200, accessories $75.

If you're close enough to the water not to need the trailer, you've already saved $200 — and you're a boatman.

NEXT: Bigger boats.

Ortiz Played Safe in Bout Against Brown

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A happy Carlos Ortiz confided today that caution and the presence of ex-heavyweight Billy Conn steered him away from any reckless attempt to win the world lightweight championship by a knockout from Joe Brown two nights ago.

Ortiz didn't need the knockout. He won handily by a decision in 15 rounds. He said it was his easiest fight in 41 ring engagements and it was certainly the worst for Brown in the 12th defense of his title.

Sitting at ringside were former heavyweight champion Joe Louis and Billy Conn, who almost won the title from Louis in an epic fight in 1941.

Conn, as old-timers recall, had the fight virtually sewed up going into the 13th round. Then, as he explained later, he decided to turn killer and try for a knockout.

It was a costly mistake. Louis knocked him out.

Ortiz, after the fight, said, "When I looked down and saw Conn and Louis sitting together, I decided to take no chances in those closing rounds. I played it safe."

The story of the one-sided bout, as Brown saw it, was the busy left jab of Ortiz. "Annoying," was Joe's description.

Old Bones won only one round on most scorecards and even that was possibly a gift.

Albany Keglers Lead in 3 Events

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Entries from Albany have taken over the lead in three of the four events in the New York State Men's Bowling Tournament.

Skip Vigners' 735 last week put him in the singles lead, and he's on top in the all-events competition with his score of 1,974 last week.

Tobin's Packing Co. took over the lead last week in the team bowling with a 3,131 total.

The sole non-Albany leader is the doubles team of J. Klejdy and J. Petrusyn of Niagara Falls, with a 1,309.

LINE PRESSURE PREVENTS LOOSE COILS OF LINE

HOLD LINE UNDER FORE-FINGER FOR TENSION

WHEN LIGHTWEIGHT SPIN-FISHING LURES ARE USED, THERE MAY NOT BE ENOUGH RESISTANCE DURING THE RETRIEVE TO PREVENT LOOSE COILS OF LINE FROM BEING WOUND UPON REEL'S SPOOL. IF YOU SHOULD BE TROUBLED THIS, MOVE YOUR ROD HAND FORWARD OF THE ROD'S HANDLE TO HOLD THE INCOMING LINE UNDER FORE-FINGER'S PRESSURE AGAINST THE ROD. STABILIZE ROD BY HOLDING IT AGAINST YOUR BODY.

WANT-AD WONDERS
Art Linkletter's Unusual Use Of Want Ads

While in college, Art found it difficult to arrange dates for himself. He then exercised his ingenuity and placed this ad in the college paper:

WANTED — By 6'11" blond, blue-eyed, letter ball player, 5'10", 5'3", attractive, good figure, insensitive, dark, brown hair and blue eyes. There is opportunity for advancement for the right party. Box 711.

As a result of this ad, Art was able to arrange a date with a statuesque beauty who later used him as a model to paint in a study of anatomy.

LITTLE MISS ULSTER COUNTY—Four-year-old Pam Paris of Accord is chosen Little Miss Ulster County in a Montgomery Ward sponsored contest at the local store Saturday. Other winners in the field of 23 contestants from three to seven years of age are five-year-old Gail Baldinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Oakley of Kingston, center, and seven-year-old Arlene Mann of Saugerties, right, second and third place winners respectively. Little Miss Ulster County will receive a $50 wardrobe from the store with runners-up receiving $25 and $15 gift certificates. Judges for the contest were Norbert Herrmann, Woodstock portrait painter, Dorothy A. Narel, society editor of The Freeman and Dave Fletcher of Photo Workshop. (Freeman photo).

Joyous Story of Easter Retold in Many Services

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The joyous story of Easter was retold in churches and at outdoor services Sunday as Christians around the world celebrated their most festive day of the year.

Religious pageantry celebrated the resurrection of Christ and marked the end of the penitential period of Lent. Displays of fashions welcomed the spring in many places.

Generally fair weather prevailed. Makeshift churches in outposts were used by members of the armed forces and civilians on overseas duty.

Pope John XXIII celebrated an Easter Mass in the Basilica in Rome which was attended by about 30,000 persons.

The pontiff later stood on the balcony of St. Peter's and addressed more than 250,000 in the courtyard. He warned against godlessness that he said could break the peace. The peace of the world is threatened, he said, and "all people tremble at the thought that it could be lost."

Pilgrims from distant lands celebrated the day in the holy city of Jerusalem with hymns of joy. An estimated one million persons joined the traditional Easter parade on New York's Fifth Avenue, which was closed to traffic for 15 blocks. The mercury reached 86 degrees—a record high for the date in the city. The previous record was 84, in 1902.

St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine and many other churches in New York had throngs of worshippers.

President Kennedy took his wife and their two children to the Palm Beach, Fla., home of his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, for a private Easter Mass.

Hundreds of thousands of Londoners attended services and took to the outdoors in balmy weather. Easter afternoon dances and get-togethers—traditional in many parts of America and elsewhere in the world—were held by churches, civic and other organizations and family groups.

The New China News Agency in Tokyo reported that church services were conducted and chocolate Easter eggs were sold in Communist China.

Japanese Seamen Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese seamen struck today for a shorter work day, tying up 325 ships in 52 ports. The Japan Seamen's Union said 59,000 of its 120,000 members would stay out one week.

4,000 Newspapers Using AP Service In United States

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press now is supplying its service to more than 4,000 newspaper and broadcasting members in the United States and to 87 countries abroad, the AP Board of Directors said today in its annual report.

The report was read at the annual meeting of The Associated Press prior to a luncheon featuring an address by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The meeting also voted for six directors to fill expiring terms on the 18-member board and on the admission of six associated member newspapers to full membership.

During a "tremendously active news year at home and abroad" the report said:

"The demands upon The Associated Press were extensive and ever-broadening. The value of the service to the membership was materially enhanced.

"An important factor was the constantly increasing effectiveness of member cooperation in supplying news and newsphotos, in providing worthwhile development ideas, and in policing the product.

"The number of members and subscribers increased around the world, climbing to more than 4,000 newspaper and broadcasting members in the United States, while the distribution to subscribers abroad expanded into 87 countries."

Canal-Digging Meeting

HONOLULU (AP)—A local construction firm and several other companies are investigating the possibility of building a 30-mile shipping canal in Thailand.

The canal, estimated to cost between $300 and $500 million would link the Indian Ocean with the South China Sea. This would reduce the Europe-Asia route by 930 miles.

K. Y. Chow, managing director of the Kra Canal Co., a Thailand firm which would operate the canal, has called a meeting of representatives of all interested parties—the Honolulu firm, two companies from San Francisco, one from Los Angeles and two from France.

Commission Head Named

NEW YORK (AP)—The Theological Commission of the United Church of Christ has elected the Rev. Dr. Elmer J. F. Arndt as chairman. He is professor of historical theology and ethics at Eden Theological seminary, Webster Groves, Mo. The United Church is a recent merger of Congregational Christian churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Elderly Couple Die

Tried for Lake. But Jet Plowed Into Homes Area

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—You are an Air Force pilot in a picked group flying over the Seattle World's Fair in an opening-day salute.

Directly over the 600-foot space needle, the engine of your F102 jet interceptor quits.

What do you do? Capt. Joseph Wildt, 53, of Cincinnati, Ohio, faced that decision Saturday.

Tried for Lake

What he did, he said Sunday, was break away from formation, try unsuccessfully to start his plane, then attempt to dive it into Lake Washington and, at the last possible moment, bail out.

The plane plowed into a residential neighborhood, starting a fire which killed an elderly couple, destroyed two houses and damaged four others.

The dead were Howard Smith, 68, and his wife, 63.

Wildt was picked up by a private boat. He is in good condition in the hospital at Paine Field north of here, where he is stationed. He has a small abrasion over his right eye.

"I hesitated as long as I could and still realize any chance of escaping the aircraft," he said in an interview. "I just knew it was going into the water when I bailed out."

Instead it lifted momentarily, cleared a low hill and crashed into the residential area.

"He did everything right and as briefed," said Lt. Col. Wyman D. Anderson, leader of the nine-plane formation which flew the aerial salute. "We're glad he made it."

Wildt has been flying F102s since January 1957.

Cochran Flies Jet 5,210 Miles, 49 Records Claimed

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—Jacqueline Cochran flew a four-engine jet 5,210 miles from New Orleans to West Germany at an average speed of 489 miles per hour Sunday and claimed 49 new flight records.

The noted American flyer—first woman to break the sound barrier—said her Lockheed Jetstar "Scarlett O'Hara" had reached a top speed of 620 m.p.h. during the three-leg flight.

Miss Cochran, wife of financier Floyd O'Hara, took off from New Orleans with three companions at 1:20 a.m. Sunday and landed at Hannover at 3 p.m. EST after refueling stops at Gander, Nfld., and Shannon, Ireland.

The National Aeronautic Association said her claim of 49 records was the largest ever submitted for a single flight.

Miss Cochran previously had set 33 national and international records. Sixteen of these are still unbroken.

Millerton Youth Named Finalists In National Test

HENRY J. BENEKE

A Dutchess County youth, Henry J. Beneke of Millerton, New York's champion Holstein boy, was one of four finalists in a national contest conducted by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. An all-time high of 29 contestants, nominated by organizations of the black and white dairy breed in as many states, participated in the event.

Allan Shepard of Pennsfield Township, Mich., was named National Champion Holstein Boy is judging based on record-keeping, leadership, integrity and variety of interest as well as progress in establishing a herd of registered Holstein cattle.

Finalists, in addition to Beneke, were Ronald Boldt of Seneca, Ill.; John L. King Jr., of Gaithersburg, Md.; Donald B. Trimble, Quarryville, Pa.

Young Shepard's victory follows the naming of Cheryl Beth Smith, Oswego, Ill., as National Champion Holstein Girl in 1958. Following her footsteps he built a herd of 41 registered Holsteins conservatively, valued at $16,750 during 14 years of 4-H and V-A dairy project work. During 1961, his 13 cows averaged 15,216 pounds of milk and 588 pounds of butterfat on DHIA and grossed more than $10,000 in sales of milk and purebred, registered seed stock. In 1961 he exhibited one of his heifers to junior championship honors at both the Eastern New York Black and White show and the Dutchess County Fair.

Beneke, 21, is one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beneke of Millerton, and his older sister, Katherine, was named National Champion Holstein Girl in 1958. Following her footsteps he built a herd of 41 registered Holsteins conservatively, valued at $16,750 during 14 years of 4-H and V-A dairy project work. During 1961, his 13 cows averaged 15,216 pounds of milk and 588 pounds of butterfat on DHIA and grossed more than $10,000 in sales of milk and purebred, registered seed stock. Atlee Is Restful LONDON (AP)—Earl Atlee spent a restful night after surgery Sunday for a severe duodenal ulcer, a hospital bulletin said today.

The hospital announced after the operation that no malignancy had been found. The 79-year-old former prime minister, who headed a labor government from 1945-51, has been hospitalized several times in recent years with stomach trouble.

On Empty Stomach

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Walter Trevor didn't intend to go without lunch the day her furniture was being moved to a new home. She made sandwiches and put them in the refrigerator. When lunch time came, she discovered the refrigerator had been packed into the moving van. Three rooms of furniture were between her and the sandwiches. She went lunchless.
